Farmers Markets Across Mississippi Kick off a New Season

By Donna West, MDAC Staff

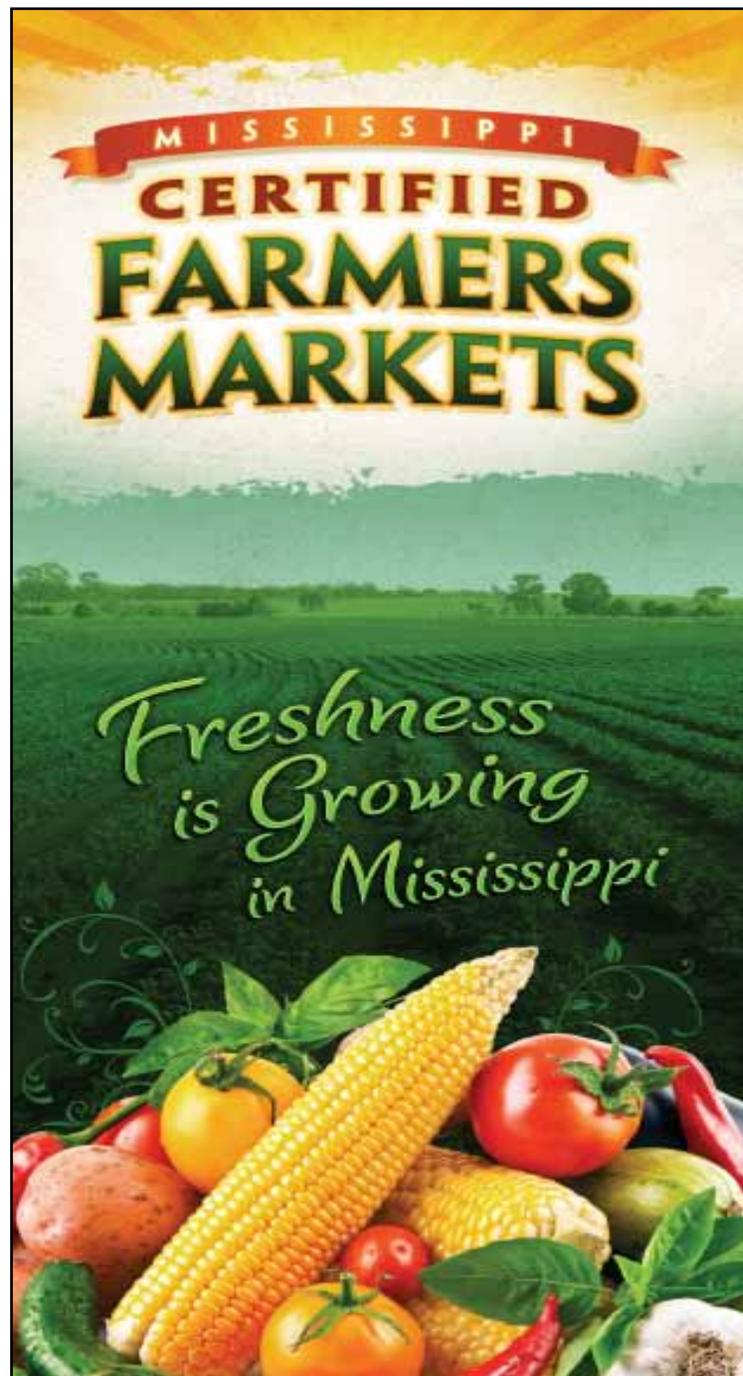

There's just something reassuring about eating food that comes from right here in Mississippi. Maybe it's our freshly shucked corn, vine ripened tomatoes, plump blueberries, juicy watermelons, and a kaleidoscope of peppers, peas, and potatoes. It could be the sweet and savory of our honey and dairy products that are so abundant across the state. Or possibly, it's the comforting enjoyment of a loaf of just baked bread or a jar of tangy pickles. These offerings and more of this great state's bounty are easy to find at Certified Farmers Markets across Mississippi.

Mississippi enjoys many operational farmers markets across the five regions of the state. Although a few of the markets remain open year-round, most launch the new season in the spring and run through the summer, with some of the markets continuing into the fall. Each market has its own spirit and atmosphere, but all have the same goal as they connect their farmers, consumers and communities, and that is to support the number one industry in the state, Agriculture!

To some, a farmers market might be just a group of stalls and booths where farmers and others sell their products directly to consumers. But to those who shop at farmers markets and to the growers who provide fresh fruits and vegetables, a farmers market is much more than tables and open space. "A farmers market is a place where consumers can establish a relationship with their local farmers; a place where you can be sure that the food you are buying and serving is safe; a place where you know how the food was grown and where it was grown," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Cindy Hyde-Smith. And, for the growers, a farmers market provides an important supplemental source of farm income and a satisfying alternative for selling their products and they get to see the smiling and appreciative faces of those who buy from them," adds Hyde-Smith.

On June 9th, the Mississippi Farmers Market, one of a number of Certified Farmers Markets in the state, officially kicks off its seventh season on High Street in Jackson. Though the Mississippi Farmers Market offers fresh produce, baked goods, and items from local artisans throughout the year, it's usually spring-time before growers are ready to provide the abundance and variety of their bounty. "The seasonal schedule typically runs from mid-May through mid-August to coincide with the peak of the summer harvest season," said Will Scarborough, Manager of the Mississippi

Farmers Market. "This year, abnormally warm weather, and plentiful rainfall have allowed farmers to get to the market with fresh local produce ahead of the typical season."

This year's kick-off and welcome back event from 8:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. on June 9 at the Mississippi Farmers Market will be a true celebration of the summer harvest. You'll find some of the freshest and most abundant supply of locally grown produce in the state. Of course, grand staples that we all love and crave, such as tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, blueberries, and okra will be available. But, you will see some new and different items such as kohlrabi, diakon radishes, green garlic, and sorrel. Bouquets of sweet collins, snap dragon, larks spur, and fox glove too. Mississippi honey, dairy, jams and jellies, as well as fresh baked goods, specialty foods, and works from local artisans will be available. Enjoy complimentary Blue Bell Ice Cream and freshly popped corn as you stroll the market. Ralph Miller, one of our favorite entertainers, will be on hand to serenade you while you sample tasty tidbits from James Roache of Rochez Restaurant. Pam Edwards will lead our market kids in constructing a scarecrow or two to guard and scare away anything pesky from the market's corn and sunflower garden.

Whether you shop at the Mississippi Farmers Market or frequent other farmers markets located throughout the state, make sure your local market is a Mississippi Certified Farmers Market. The integrity and quality of the fruits, vegetables, and other agriculturally enhanced products are validated when sold at these markets, and by making a trip to your area Certified Farmers Market, you are buying good nourishing food and helping to build a strong local economy.

Mississippi Deadline to Apply for SBA Working Capital Loans Due to 2011 Drought and Excessive Heat is June 14

By Michael Lampton
U.S. Small Business Administration
Office of Disaster Assistance

The U.S. Small Business Administration is reminding small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, small businesses engaged in aquaculture and most private non-profit organizations of all sizes that June 14 is the filing deadline for federal economic injury disaster loans available in Mississippi as a result of the drought and excessive heat that occurred from January 1 through August 30, 2011.

The SBA's disaster declaration includes the following counties: Adams, Amite, Attala, Benton, Calhoun, Carroll, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Claiborne, Clarke, Clay, Copiah, Covington, Forrest, Franklin, George, Greene, Grenada, Hancock, Harrison, Hinds, Holmes, Humphreys, Issaquena, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Jefferson Davis, Jones, Kemper, Lafayette, Lamar, Lawrence, Leake, Lee, Leflore, Lincoln, Lowndes, Madison, Marion, Marshall, Monroe, Montgomery, Neshoba, Newton, Noxubee, Oktibbeha, Pearl River, Perry, Pike, Pontotoc, Prentiss, Rankin, Scott, Sharkey, Simpson, Smith, Stone, Sunflower, Tallahatchie, Tip-pah, Union, Walthall, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Wilkinson, Winston and Yazoo in Mississippi; Chicot County in Arkansas; and Concordia, East Carroll, East Feliciana, Madison, Saint Helena, Saint Tammany, Tangipahoa, Tensas, Washington and West Feliciana Parishes in Louisiana.

"When the Secretary of Agriculture issues a disaster declaration to help farmers recover from damages and losses to crops, the Small Business Administration issues a declaration to eligible entities affected by the same disaster," said Frank Skaggs, director of SBA's Field Operations Center East.

Under this declaration, the SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loan program is available to eligible farm-related and nonfarm-related entities that suffered financial losses as a direct result of this disaster. Except for aquaculture enterprises, agricultural producers, farmers and ranchers are not eligible to apply to SBA, but nurseries are eligible to apply for economic injury disaster loans for losses caused by drought conditions.

The loan amount can be up to $2 million with a four percent interest rate for eligible small businesses and three percent for non-profit organizations and terms up to 30 years.

The SBA determines eligibility based on the size of the applicant, type of activity and its financial resources. Loan amounts and terms are set by the SBA and are based on each applicant's financial condition. These working capital loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that could have been paid had the disaster not occurred. The loans are not intended to replace lost sales or profits.

Disaster loan information and application forms may be obtained by calling the SBA's Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955 (800-877-8339 for the deaf and hard-of-hearing) or by sending an email to disastercustomerservice@sba.gov. Loan applications can be downloaded from www.sba.gov. Completed applications should be mailed to: U.S. Small Business Administration, Processing and Disbursement Center, 14925 Kingsport Road, Fort Worth, TX 76155.

Those affected by the disaster may also apply for loans electronically from SBA's website at <https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela/>.

Completed loan applications must be returned to SBA no later than June 14, 2012.

FINAL REMINDER

For Livestock Brand Renewal

The State Brand Registrar has announced that in July of 2012 the new five year Livestock Brand Book for the state of Mississippi will be published. This is done on a five year cycle. All livestock brands which are registered with the state must be re-registered by June 30th, 2012 in order to be in the 2012 brand book and to be a valid brand.

Renewal notices were mailed on March 1st; anyone who has a registered brand and has not received a notice should call the State Brands Registrar, Anna Tillotson, at 1-800-678-2660 or 601-359-1121.

Anyone interested in obtaining a new livestock brand should also call the same number.

Mississippi Code 69-29-105 outlines the process for registering or transferring a livestock brand and the penalty for branding livestock with a brand which has not been registered.

The registration fee for a five year period is $5.00.

Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Warm March Allowed Early Soybean Planting

By Bonnie Coblentz
MSU Ag Communications

Soybeans are usually an early-planted crop, but an unseasonably warm March gave some growers a chance to get in the fields a little ahead of the typical April 1 start date.

Trent Irby, Mississippi State University Extension Service State Soybean Specialist, said the crop was on track at the end of April.

"Many parts of the state got planted about two weeks earlier than normal," Irby said. "Several places remained too wet to plant until mid-April, but overall, we're slightly ahead of schedule."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimated Mississippi growers will plant 1.75 million acres of soybeans, down just 4 percent from 2011. As of April 22, about 40 percent of the state's soybean crop had been planted, and 26 percent had emerged. These numbers are slightly above the five-year average of 34 percent planted and 16 percent emerged by this same time.

"Winter wheat will soon be ready to harvest. If soil moisture conditions are favorable, many growers may choose to have a late-planted crop of soybeans double-cropped with their wheat rather than letting the ground lay fallow," Irby said. "This could mean that some of the state's soybeans will not be planted until June."

Late April saw several nights of temperatures in the 40s and 50s, but there was no frost in the state. A bigger concern is recent windy days that have pulled needed moisture out of the soil.

"In certain areas that have not received sufficient rainfall, growers are waiting for a rain before they resume planting," Irby said. "It is likely that many other areas of the state will need rain in the next week or so to maintain adequate soil moisture for planting."

A warm March helped Mississippi growers get an early start planting the soybean crop. By late April, more than a fourth of the crop had emerged.

Anthony Bland, Extension Tunica County Director, said his county got about an inch of scattered rain in late April, but areas are still dry.

"We have a few areas in the northern portion of the county that are so dry that we'll probably need another shower before we resume planting," Bland said.

Despite dry soils, Bland estimated more than 80 percent of the county's soybeans had been planted by the last week of April. Tunica County's biggest crop is soybeans, and Bland said about 60 percent of the county's estimated 120,000 acres of soybeans are irrigated.

Planting soybeans early is a sound strategy for best harvest results.

"It's been proven over the years that the earlier you can get your crop planted, the higher your soybean yields will be," Bland said. "Early-planted soybeans have a better chance of taking advantage of summer rains and setting their crop before the weather gets very hot and dry in August."

Good prices drove predictions of high soybean acreage. John Michael Riley, Extension Agricultural Economist, said current 2012 crop contract prices in the Delta are about $13.90 per bushel. September soybean futures prices are $14.11 per bushel, six cents above September futures prices last year.

"Soybean prices have been moving higher since December 2011," Riley said. "Tight global supplies, largely due to dry conditions in South America, have been a boon for the upcoming crop prices as well as last year's crop prices. A smaller-than-expected U.S. acreage number also helped push prices up."

Bonnie Plants Third Grade Cabbage Program

By Stan Cope, President
Bonnie Plants

The Bonnie Plants Company has sponsored over the past 10 years a third grade Cabbage Program to give students a rewarding opportunity to learn about vegetable gardening, nature, and healthy foods. Last year Bonnie Plants distributed 1.5 million plants throughout the United States to third graders.

Vegetable gardening is a fun and rewarding way to learn about nature and healthy food. That's why we started the Bonnie Plants third grade Cabbage Program. Through the program, millions of students have learned about gardening.

If you're a third grade teacher, register your class and help students learn the value of growing food. If you're a student or parent, encourage your teacher to sign up! With an adult's help, kids can plant one of our oversized cabbage varieties and watch it grow, grow, and grow-often bigger than a basketball. We hope the third grade Cabbage Program continues to foster a lifelong love of gardening for millions more children across the country.

To find out more about the program or to register your class, check out the following website: <http://bonniecabbageprogram.com/about/>
