If It's October, You Know It's Time For Your Mississippi State Fair

By Donna West, MDAC Staff

For 153 years, the Mississippi State Fair, located in the capital city of Jackson, has been the designated site for adventure, entertainment, competition, and feasting - a merry way to embrace the inner child we remember. With a scissor snip of the ribbon at 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, October 3, Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Cindy Hyde-Smith will officially welcome one and all to the 2012 Mississippi State Fair. "As this is my first State Fair serving as your Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce, I am truly honored to welcome you to this spectacular event," said Commissioner Hyde-Smith. "The State Fair is more than just an event; it's an experience."

Without a doubt, the Mississippi State Fair, voted as one of Mississippi's Best Fairs or Festivals in Mississippi Magazine's Best of Mississippi 2012, continues to be the most enduring and endearing tradition in the state. Each year, as the gates swing wide to over 100 acres of open space, livestock barns, exhibit buildings, and the 10,000 seat coliseum; thousands of people embark on a journey into Mississippi's heritage, customs, and good family fun. The fair runs through Sunday, October 14, with a gate admission price of $5.00. Children under the age of 6 are admitted free of charge. On weekdays enjoy free admission from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. For a complete fair guide listing, see pages 16 to 18.

"Last year, fairgoers, blessed with beautiful weather, set a new attendance record with more than 694,000 people," said Billy Orr, Executive Director of the Mississippi Fair Commission. "With the seemingly never ending assortment of thrilling rides, delicious and fun foods, and terrific entertainment, this year's fair should provide enough fun and memories to last a long time." Added Orr, "The long range weather forecast for the first few weeks of October is slated to be cool and dry—just right for enjoying a day or night at the fair."

In the Budweiser Pavilion, Jayson Promotions presents an outstanding lineup of free entertainment, which includes Thompson Square, Keith Sweat, Hinder, The Xtremez, The Heavenly Wonders, Don Felder formerly of the Eagles, Loretta Lynn, Chubby Checker, En Vogue, and Vasti Jackson headlining a Blues Event. With the Last Blast, enjoy the Bluegrass Event with Alan Sibley and the Magnolia Rambler, the Larry Wallace Band, and Bill and Temperance. The Budweiser Pavilion is also home to the Texaco Country Showdown showcasing acts representing radio stations throughout the state, and competing for the state title and prize money.

But, the monumental midway is just part of the action. The Mississippi Coliseum will be the site for Brantley Gilbert's Hell on Wheels Tour with special guests Uncle Kracker, Greg Bates, and Brian Davis. Trustmark presents Senior American Day, featuring Mississippi's own Guy Hovis, Raphael Semmes, The Four Freshmen, Spoken 4, and Jerry Puckett. Chubby Checker will make a special appearance to do "The Twist."

In the Trade Mart, you'll find cloggers on stage daily, displays and exhibits, and pageants and contests galore. There's the State Fair Talent Contest, the Mother & Daughter Look-A-Like Contest, Mr. Legs Contest, and the ever popular Beard Growing Contest. All polished to perfection, you'll find antique and classic cars, along with antique engines and tractors also on display.

In the Kirk Fordice Equine Center enjoy the Garden Tractor Pulls, and the Antique Tractor Pull, hosted by the Dixie Iron Tractor Club. Don't miss the State Fair Stockdog Trials or the Horse & Mule Pulls.

Back on the midway, friends and family can take advantage of various ride specials including Ride-A-Thon, Ride Survivor, Family Day Ride Specials, and Last Blast. Don't forget about the FFA Children's Barnyard, Comcast's Circus Maximus, and the petting zoo and pig races. And you just can't miss the Celebrity Beef Cookout Contest! Be sure to attend the various livestock shows as Mississippi's youth compete for top honors presenting the best in livestock and agriculture.

One of the longest running and most fun rituals when visiting the fair is sampling as much "Fair Food" as possible...corn dogs, taffy, funnel cakes, caramel apples, cotton candy, and turkey legs to name just a few. Of course, one indulgence that is always in demand is the hot and fluffy biscuit. For decades, employees of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce have volunteered to bake from scratch these southern comforts, fill them with the desired amount of syrup, and serve them piping hot—all at no charge. According to Doris Welch, manager of the Biscuit Booth, more than 100,000 thousand biscuits were made and handed out last year. With flour donated by Kroger, syrup from Blackburn, and buttermilk from Borden, you will not find a better biscuit than those at the Biscuit Booth!

"For more than 28 years, North American Midway Entertainment has sponsored the amusements along the midway, which is a big reason we are considered one of the best attractions in the state," said Billy Orr. Adds Commissioner Hyde-Smith, "Thank you for supporting this special tradition of family fun, and for allowing us to showcase our rich and colorful agricultural heritage. Without you, this fair would not be possible." October would just not be the same without the Mississippi State Fair.

For additional information, visit www.msfair.net or call 601-961-4000.

Good weather and attendance promotions kept the numbers up during last year's 2011 Mississippi State Fair with an attendance of 694,892 visitors.

From Our Kitchen To Yours

Home Style Fair Food...

SPICY TURKEY LEGS

2/3 cup hot sauce
5 tablespoons canola oil
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 tablespoon soy sauce
2 teaspoons ground mustard
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon onion powder
1 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce, optional
6 turkey drumsticks (1 pound each)

In a small bowl, combine the first 11 ingredients; set aside 1/4 cup for basting. Draw remaining marinade into a flavor injector. In several areas of each drumstick, inject a total of 2 tablespoons (or one ounce) of marinade into the meat while slowly pulling out the needle. Place drumsticks on a foil-lined 15-inch x 10-inch x 1-inch baking pan. Cover and bake at 375° for 30 minutes. Uncover; bake 45-55 minutes longer or until a meat thermometer reads 180°, basting occasionally with reserved marinade.

CARNIVAL CARAMEL APPLES

1/2 cup butter, cubed
2 cups packed brown sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
Dash salt
1 14-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
10 to 12 Popsicle sticks
10 to 12 medium tart apples, washed & dried
1 cup salted peanuts, chopped

In a large heavy saucepan, melt butter; add the brown sugar, corn syrup, and salt. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil, about 10-12 minutes. Stir in milk. Cook and stir until a candy thermometer reads 248° (firm-ball stage). Remove from the heat; stir in vanilla. Insert Popsicle sticks into apples. Dip each apple into hot caramel mixture; turn to coat. Dip bottom of apples into peanuts. Place on greased waxed paper until set.

GRILLED CORN WITH CHIVE BUTTER

6 medium ears sweet corn in husks
1/2 cup butter, melted
2 tablespoons minced chives
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
Salt & pepper

Soak corn in cold water for one hour. In a small bowl, combine the butter, chives, sugar, lemon juice, and salt and pepper. Carefully peel back corn husks to within one inch of bottom; remove silk. Brush with butter mixture. Rewrap corn in husks and secure with kitchen string. Grill corn, uncovered, over medium heat for 25-30 minutes, turning occasionally.

FUNNEL CAKES

2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 cup water
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 cups all-purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
Oil for deep-fat frying
Confectioners' sugar

In a large bowl, beat eggs. Add milk, water, and vanilla until well blended. Combine flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt; beat into egg mixture until smooth. In an electric skillet or deep-fat fryer, heat oil to 375°. Cover the bottom of a funnel spout with your finger; ladle 1/2 cup of batter into the funnel. Holding the funnel several inches above the oil, release your finger and move the funnel in a spiral motion until all the batter is released (scraping with a rubber spatula if needed). Fry for two minutes on each side or until golden brown. Drain on paper towels. Dust with confectioners' sugar and serve warm.

GRANOLA BANANA STICKS

1/4 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons plus 1 1/2 teaspoons honey
4 1/2 teaspoons brown sugar
2 teaspoons milk
3 medium firm bananas
6 Popsicle sticks
2 crunchy oat & honey granola bars, crushed

In a small saucepan, combine the peanut butter, honey, brown sugar, and milk; cook until heated through, stirring occasionally. Peel bananas and cut halfway widthwise; insert a Popsicle stick into one end of each banana half. Coat completely each banana half with peanut butter mixture. Sprinkle with granola. Serve immediately or place on waxed paper-lined baking sheet and freeze.

CHOCOLATE-COVERED BACON

12 thick-sliced bacon strips (about 1 pound)
12 wooden skewers (12 inches long)
6 ounces white candy coating, chopped
1 cup semisweet chocolate chips
1 tablespoon shortening
Optional toppings: dried apple chips, apricots, crystallized ginger, finely chopped pecans and pistachios, toasted coconut, kosher salt, brown sugar, cayenne pepper, and coarsely ground black pepper

Thread each bacon strip onto a wooden skewer. Place on a rack in a large baking pan. Bake at 400° for 20-25 minutes or until crisp. Cool completely. In a microwave, melt candy coating; stir until smooth. Combine chocolate chips and shortening; melt in a microwave, and stir until smooth. With pastry brushes, coat bacon on both sides with melted coatings. Top each strip as desired. Place on waxed paper-lined baking sheets. Refrigerate until firm; store in the refrigerator.

Dear Fairgoers,

Welcome to the 153rd Mississippi State Fair! While this is not my first State Fair, it is my first State Fair serving as your Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce, and I am honored to welcome you to this spectacular event. To many families, like my own, coming to the fair is a family tradition. The State Fair is more than just an event, it's an experience. From the food on the Midway to the carnival rides and games to the various livestock events, the Fair is an annual extravaganza that so many look forward to each year.

Not only does the State Fair provide us with fun-filled family entertainment for all ages, it also showcases our rich agricultural heritage. It provides the opportunity to highlight the importance of agriculture in our state. Attractions such as the popular Children's Barnyard are enjoyed by numerous children of all ages that have the opportunity to encounter farm animals for the first time, and events such as livestock shows give exhibitors the chance to show off their award-winning livestock.

This Fun Guide provides you with the schedule of the events and activities that you will not want to miss. I encourage you to make the most of your visit to the Mississippi State Fair. Thank you for supporting the Mississippi State Fair and for helping to keep this Mississippi tradition alive.

Sincerely,

Cindy Hyde-Smith

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce

Hay Inspection Needed For Some Interstate Sales

By MSU Ag Communications

A fire ant quarantine means hay producers in Mississippi must have their baled hay inspected before transporting it out of state.

Rocky Lemus, forage specialist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service and researcher with the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station, said fire ants have not been established in many parts of the United States. Hay movement from the southern United States into areas impacted by the drought might increase the opportunity for fire ant colonization. Preventative regulations have been imposed on transporting hay from infected to non-infected areas.

"Our producers have a good opportunity to supply hay to farmers in parts of the Midwest and Arkansas. The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce's Bureau of Plant Industry is ready to help our hay producers navigate these out of state restrictions and requirements so they can move their product to these non-infested areas," Lemus said.

In a September 10 press release, the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC) said that each load of hay going from Mississippi to drought-stricken areas must be "inspected and certified as apparently free of fire ants prior to shipment."

- ◆ Prior to inspection, hay
- ◆ Must be removed from direct contact with soil, preferably within 24 hours after baling. To reduce the fire risk, do not store hay in a barn immediately after baling.

- ◆ Must be placed on concrete, pallets, tires or plastic.
- ◆ Should be stacked and separated by truckloads.

Each truck load must have a certificate of inspection. Producers are strongly encouraged to treat for fire ants in the area around the hay storage site so the insects do not move into the hay.

Lemus suggested producers contact MDAC's Bureau of Plant Industry at (662) 325-3390 several days in advance of a planned shipment to get detailed instructions about the inspection process.

For information about hay certification in Mississippi, contact a local county Extension office or go to <http://www.MSUcares.com> and look for publication P2733, "Imported Fire Ant-Free Hay Certification in Mississippi."

Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Advertising rules and guidelines have been established for the Mississippi Market Bulletin in order to comply with regulations enforced by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and to maintain the objectives of the publication. The staff of the Mississippi Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any advertisement.

The Mississippi Market Bulletin assumes no responsibility for any notice appearing in the Bulletin nor for any transaction resulting from published notices. Advertisers are cautioned that it is against the law to misrepresent any product offered for sale in public notices or advertisements carried in any publication that is delivered by the United States Postal Service.

- In order to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin you must be a subscriber. To place an ad, you must include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.
- There is a 30-word limit for classified advertisements, this includes: price (on the item you are selling), your city, county and telephone number or name and complete address must be included in the ad if you do not list a telephone number. Ads cannot be held over from one issue to another. You must submit them for each issue.
- Out-of-state residents are not eligible to advertise with the following exceptions: Out-of-state ads are allowed in the "Wanting To Buy" category. Out-of-state ads are allowed for individuals owning farm property within the state that is being offered for sale (consisting of 10 acres or more).

New Limited Liability Law Kicks off Agritourism Month in Mississippi

By Donna West, MDAC Staff

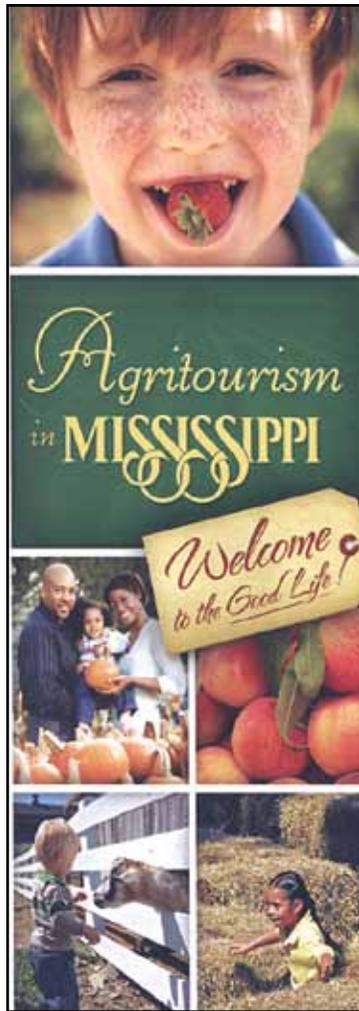

What is Agritourism anyway? It's simple really. By definition, Agritourism means the travel or visit by the general public to, or the practice of inviting or allowing the general public to travel or visit a working farm, ranch, or other commercial agricultural, aquacultural, horticultural, or forestry operation for the purpose of enjoyment, education, or participation in the activities of the farm, ranch, or other agricultural, aquacultural, horticultural, or forestry operation. This is simple you ask? It will be.

Actually this is the definition as stated in the recently passed Senate Bill 2439, an act to provide limited liability to persons engaged in agritourism activities. This new law gives landowners added liability protection as long as they make sensible efforts to make their property secure and alert visitors to any recognized hazards. In addition, each agritourism landowner must register their venue with the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC).

To become eligible to register with the Department of Agriculture, certain criteria must be met and adhered to. Warning signs with specific language, as spelled out by law, must be posted and maintained in clearly visible entrance and activity locations. Also, upon application for registration, the landowner must pay an annual fee in the amount of $50.00 to the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. Once the application has been submitted, a member of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce staff will make a site visit to inspect and ensure the operation is in fact an agritourism operation.

As a way to promote the registered operations, information about the operations will be listed on the MDAC agritourism webpage and will be linked on both the outdoor tourism webpage of the Mississippi Development Authority, as well as the Mississippi Agritourism Association website.

The Mississippi Department of Transportation, working in conjunction with Mississippi Logos, LLC, has launched a directional signage program for those agritourism venues registered with MDAC. This program, based on criteria and fees instituted by these two organizations, and separate from the Mississippi Agritourism Registration program, will supply those registered agritourism venues with road signs stating the name of the agritourism destination and mileage. For more information about the Mississippi Agritourism Sign program, contact Mississippi Logos, LLC at 601-853-7100/800-814-5646.

But, this is really a tale of two stories, so let's get back to the earlier assurance of defining agritourism simply. Take a real working farm and those who own the land and work so hard to preserve it. Reflect on what you might find if you were to visit such a farm. A big old red barn? More than likely, yes. Stalks of corn and bales of hay? A definite possibility. Strawberries, blueberries, muscadines, tomatoes, and sweet potatoes for as far as the eye can see? What a delicious idea. What about animals? They are always an important cog in the wheel of agriculture. Looking for wagons and trains and tractors? Of course.

Fields of flowers, cotton, pumpkins, and Christmas trees. How lovely. Maybe a cabin, a lake, or a quaint little general store will be included. Combine all of these expected elements of a working farm, blend them together with the tender loving care provided by the farmers, add a whole lot of open air, throw in a variety of sounds and aromas, and then, mix thoroughly. The result of this agricultural fusion is Agritourism. Of course!

There's the challenge of a corn or hay bale maze or a chance to grab a bucket and pick your own produce for a delicious meal. Think about a petting zoo with pigs, goats, and chickens - oh my! Wagon rides, hay rides, and train rides are amusing modes of transportation and an inspired approach to stargazing and bird watching. Horses for riding, cows for milking, and bees for honeying are fun and enlightening. Festivals to celebrate peanuts, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, watermelon, and catfish are excellent ways to bring a community together. Mix in opportunities for education with hands-on syrup making, and goat's milk soap and cheese production. Get yourself in the holiday spirit by visiting the Red Barn Haunted House; pick a pumpkin for carving, and a Christmas tree for trimming. What could be more invigorating than camping, picnicking, or hosting a family reunion on a working farm?

October is agritourism month in Mississippi, so help celebrate two of the top driving forces in the state's economic development efforts...agriculture and tourism. For adventure, fun, and entertainment; as well as a desire to learn more about the history, customs, and culture of Mississippi's working farms, look no further than the Hospitality State's many agritourism operations. The offerings are many and diverse and will leave a lifetime of memories. It's really just that simple.

Mississippi to Celebrate Farm to School Week

By Paige Manning
Director of Marketing and Public Relations - MDAC

The first week in October was designated as Mississippi Farm to School Week by the Mississippi Legislature earlier this year. Farm to School Week was introduced to encourage the serving of locally grown and locally raised agricultural products in school meals and to recognize the substantial economic health benefits to farm to school programs. During the week of October 1-5, many schools around the state will be incorporating Mississippi grown products, including produce, into their menus.

Farm to School Week will draw attention to the vast number of crops that are grown in the state, as well as, serve as an educational tool to teach children where their food comes from. The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC), in collaboration with the Mississippi Department of Education, will be celebrating Farm to School Week at Rouse Elementary School in Brandon, Mississippi, on October 2 where students will be eating Mississippi blueberries, cucumbers, tomatoes, and peas. As part of the celebration, the students will have the opportunity to meet and eat lunch with the farmers that grew their food in addition to state leaders including Governor Phil Bryant, Agriculture Commissioner Cindy Hyde-Smith, and Interim Deputy State Education Superintendent Dr.

Kim Benton.

The option to sell locally grown items to schools provides farmers with an additional marketing opportunity and benefits communities by keeping money in the local economy. The Mississippi Department of Education has partnered with the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce for a decade to increase the volume of Mississippi products served in schools through the US Department of Defense (DoD) Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program. However, this program is not the only option for farmers wanting to sell their produce to local schools.

Farmers that are interested in selling to local school systems can do this by contacting the foodservice coordinator at the particular school to inquire about the potential of partnering with the school. While the farmers participating in the DoD Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program are required to have the Good Agriculture Practices (GAP) certification, those opting to sell directly to schools outside of this program may not be required to have the certification. This will vary based on the individual school's requirements. In order to provide financial assistance to farmers obtaining GAP certification, MDAC will be offering a cost-share program to help offset this cost for growers beginning in early 2013. More details will be made available in the upcoming months, so stay tuned.
