Cold Weather Slowed Winter Wheat, but Crop Should Thrive

By Bonnie Coblentz
MSU Ag Communications

This year's cold winter slowed wheat growth so the late-March freeze across much of Mississippi probably did not cause major damage to the state's wheat crop.

Erick Larson, grain crops agronomist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service, said most wheat across the state had not reached a growth stage where it would have been sensitive to freezing temperatures when the cold returned on March 26.

"We had a lot colder than normal winter, so we didn't get as much growth on our wheat as usual, and that worked out to be a good thing,"

Erick Larson inspects wheat on March 25, 2014, that has broken winter dormancy and is actively growing on Mississippi State University's R.R. Foil Plant Science Research Center. The Extension agronomist said the cold winter slowed wheat maturity, allowing it to better withstand the early-spring freeze. (Photo by MSU Ag Communications/Kat Lawrence)

Larson said. "Often by late March, we have wheat approaching heading stage, when it is very vulnerable to freeze, but this year, most wheat has several weeks to go before that stage.

"We also had extremely cold temperatures several times during the winter, but wheat is most tolerant to extreme cold during that time," he said. "However, some of our wheat is sowed by broadcasting seed on top of the soil, and this wheat may have sustained some winterkill because the seed is more exposed and vulnerable."

Wheat planted with a drill is dropped an inch or more into the ground and covered. This method improves its stand, vigor, and winter hardiness.

This year, wheat broke dormancy in mid-March, much later than usual.

"The wheat has not reached the boot stage, when the head is swollen in the uppermost part of the stem right before it emerges," Larson said. "At the boot stage, temperatures of 26 to 28 degrees will cause some injury, but fortunately, most of our wheat was younger than that."

While low temperatures appear to have caused no real damage, migratory snow geese that feed in wheat fields have been an issue.

"The amount of grazing they did this year was substantial," Larson said. "Because of the low temperatures, the fields didn't have as much plant growth as usual for the geese to feed on. It was cold in February, so the geese stayed longer in our fields before migrating back north, and there were not as many acres of wheat for them to graze on."

Cold weather did have one benefit. Fertilizer and herbicide applications were done later than usual, and Larson said that may mean less nitrogen is lost this year.

Mississippi producers planted just 200,000 acres of wheat in the fall, down substantially from the more than 400,000 acres harvested in 2013. Wheat is often planted on soybean acreage, and Larson said part of the decrease is because soybeans were harvested so late last year.

Brian Williams, Extension agricultural economist, said market prices are typically the highest in the spring, when stockpiled wheat is at its lowest.

"Wheat prices have been rising steadily since the first part of February, when the May contract was trading for about $5.60," Williams said. "As of March 24, wheat in Greenville was trading for $7.30 per bushel, which is just slightly below where it was a year ago. Prices are above the three- and five-year historical averages for this time of year, as well."

Mississippi is not the only state that planted significantly fewer wheat acres than the previous year, so a smaller supply is driving prices, as are concerns about the crop's condition after the cold winter. Williams said tensions between Ukraine and Russia, both major players in the global wheat market, are also affecting wheat prices in the U.S.

MDAC Announces Upcoming Workshop for Farmers Market Managers

By Susan Head
Marketing Specialist - MDAC

The opportunity for farmers market managers, staff, volunteers, and board members to learn strategies for managing a farmers market more effectively and efficiently is being made available through a Farmers Market Manager Workshop on April 23, 2014, in Jackson, Mississippi. This workshop is funded by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce in collaboration with the Mississippi State University Extension Service.

This workshop will allow participants to hear how the new Farm Bill may impact farmers markets, strategies for recruiting new vendors, how to increase promotional and marketing efforts through Mississippi Market Maker, and what's new in the world of social media. Managers will hear from a panel of experts to learn the benefits of becoming a Certified Farmers Market through the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and permit requirements for items such as meat, dairy, eggs, and cottage foods. There will also be a manager panel in which managers can learn from each other's ideas and experiences in hopes of enhancing success of all markets in Mississippi.

The Farmers Market Manager

Workshop will be held on Wednesday, April 23, 2014, at the Sparkman Auditorium of the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum located at 1150 Lakeland Drive in Jackson. The workshop will begin at 10:00 a.m. and conclude by 3:00 p.m. Sign-in will begin at 9:30 a.m. The registration fee to attend is $15, which includes lunch and educational materials. Pre-registration is required. The deadline to register is April 17. Registration forms can be obtained by calling (601) 359-1196, emailing susan@mdac.ms.gov, or visiting the Alerts and Announcements section on www.mdac.ms.gov.

From Our Kitchen To Yours

Wonderful Wheat!

*****

Artichoke Wheat Berry Salad

- 1 cup whole wheat berries
- 3 cups chicken broth
- 3 green onions, sliced – tops & all
- 1 small yellow pepper, seeded & diced
- 20 stuffed olives, sliced
- 2 6-ounce jars marinated artichoke hearts, drained – reserve marinade
- 1/2 cup light mayonnaise
- 1/4 teaspoon curry powder

Heat chicken broth and add whole wheat berries. Simmer 1/2 hour; refrigerate mixture overnight. After mixture has been refrigerated overnight, simmer wheat until soft, approximately 1/2 to 1 hour; drain excess liquid. Add green onions, pepper, olives and drained artichoke hearts to wheat berries. Blend mayonnaise and curry powder into 1/4 cup reserved artichoke marinade until smooth. Add to wheat mixture and mix thoroughly. Chill several hours before serving or overnight. Note: By soaking the wheat overnight, cooking time is cut in half

Chicken & Cashew Salad in a Pita

- 1/2 cup fat-free mayonnaise or light salad dressing
- 1 tablespoon light soy sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 tablespoon reduced fat peanut butter
- 1 cup cooked, chopped chicken
- 1/2 cup Chinese peapods, cut in half
- 1/2 cup chopped red or yellow sweet peppers
- 1/4 cup roasted cashews
- 3 whole wheat pita breads, cut in half

Mix the first 4 ingredients until well blended. Add chicken and vegetables and refrigerate 1 to 4 hours. Stir in cashews and spoon mixture into pita pockets.

Light-as-a-Feather
Whole Wheat Pancakes

- 1 1/3 cups whole wheat flour
- 1 large egg
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 1/3 cups buttermilk
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 tablespoon oil

Preheat griddle. In a medium bowl, stir or sift dry ingredients together; beat egg, buttermilk, brown sugar and oil together. Stir into dry ingredients just until moistened; batter should be slightly lumpy. Pour 1/4 cup batter for each cake onto a well-seasoned hot griddle. Flip the pancake when bubbles appear on surface, turning only once. Serve hot with syrup, or serve with chunky, spiced applesauce or thick fruit sauce over pancakes.

Whole Wheat Sugar Cookies

- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup butter, softened
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons 2% milk
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 cups whole wheat flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 to 2 tablespoons sugar

In a medium bowl, using an electric mixer, cream together brown sugar and butter until fluffy, about 3 minutes. Add egg, milk, extracts and mix well. Blend together flour, baking powder, soda, salt, nutmeg and orange peel. Add to egg mixture and continue to mix until well blended. Shape dough balls, using about 2 teaspoons each. Roll in granulated sugar. Place about 2 inches apart on cookie sheet coated with cooking spray. Flatten cookie slightly. Bake in preheated 375° F oven for 9 to 10 minutes or until golden brown. Cool on pan for 2 minutes and transfer to wire rack.

Pasta, Shrimp & Cheese Bake

- 12 ounces angel hair pasta
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup fat-free milk
- 3/4 cup (8 ounces) plain low-fat yogurt
- 4 ounces feta cheese, crumbled
- 1/2 cup (4 ounces) shredded Swiss cheese
- 1 teaspoon dried, crushed basil
- 1 teaspoon dried crushed oregano leaves
- 1 16-ounce jar mild, thick & chunky salsa
- 3/4 pound medium shrimp, peeled & deveined
- 3/4 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese

Preheat oven to 350° F. Cook pasta according to package directions; drain. In a medium bowl, combine eggs, milk, yogurt, feta cheese, Swiss cheese, basil and oregano; mix well. Spread 1/2 of the pasta on the bottom of an 8 x 12-inch baking dish coated with non-stick spray. Spread salsa over pasta. Place 1/2 of the shrimp over the salsa, and cover with remaining pasta. Pour the egg and cheese mixture over the pasta; layer with remaining shrimp. Sprinkle with Monterey Jack cheese over the top. Bake 30 to 35 minutes or until bubbly. Let stand 10 minutes before serving.

Farmers Market Manager Workshop

Wednesday, April 23, 2014
MS Ag & Forestry Museum • Jackson, MS

This workshop is specifically designed for market managers, staff, volunteers, and board members to share strategies for managing a farmers market more effectively and efficiently in this technological age.

Managers will also learn how the new Farm Bill may impact farmers markets, strategies for recruiting new vendors, how to increase promotional and marketing efforts through Mississippi Market Maker, and what's new in the world of social media.

The Farmers Market Manager Workshop will be held Wednesday, April 23, 2014 in the Sparkman Auditorium of the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Museum located at 1150 Lakeland Drive in Jackson.

The workshop will begin at 10:00 a.m. and conclude by 3:00 p.m. Pre-registration is required. The registration fee to attend is $15, which includes lunch and educational materials. Deadline to register is April 17.

To obtain an application, or for more information, contact Susan Head at 601-359-1196 or susan@mdac.ms.gov.

Specialty Crop Block Grant Application

The Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce is now accepting applications for the Specialty Crop Block Grant Program.

Projects funded through this program must solely enhance the competitiveness of specialty crops and cannot benefit one particular commercial product or provide a profit to a single organization, institution, or individual. Specialty crops include commonly recognized fruits, vegetables, tree nuts, dried fruits, and nursery crops (including floriculture). Applications must be submitted by 5:00 p.m. on May 15, 2014.

To obtain an application, visit the Alerts and Announcements section on www.mdac.ms.gov, call (601) 359-1196, or email susan@mdac.ms.gov.

This timber report contains aggregated individual timber sale stumpage data. Many variables, such as raw material demand, mill inventories, buyer competition, quality, topography and weather, play key roles in determining local prices. Pine Sawtimber prices are based upon a 14-inch Diameter-at-Breast-Height (DBH) log size. Pine Chip N Saw prices are based upon a 10-inch DBH log size. The stumpage prices shown here are reprinted with permission from the Timber Owner Market Guide; a bi-monthly publication of Forest2Market (www.forest2market.com).

AG Museum Launches New Branding Strategy

By Paige Manning
Director of Marketing and Public Relations - MDAC

The Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum announced the launching of a new branding strategy which includes a new logo and updated website as well as promotional materials and design templates for way-finding signage. The development and implementation of a new branding strategy is essential for executing and expressing the Museum's mission: The mission of the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum is to create an environment that communicates the value of past and present Mississippi agricultural lifestyles, relationships, and practices and their relevance to the future of all people. The branding strategy provides a seamless look across all mediums such as the website and promotional materials. Events and venue marketing will begin to be connected in the public's mind and will add strength to the Museum's primary brand.

"The Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum is made up of many facets from the exhibit gallery to Small Town and rental facilities. This 'new look' will help us to connect all of the different offerings on the Museum campus so that the public has a better understanding of who we are and the purpose we serve. This will be especially important in the future as we continue making improvements to the grounds, buildings, exhibits, and educational programs," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Cindy Hyde-Smith.

The new logo provides a visual identity for the Museum representing Mississippi farmland and how farming has progressed over time. It portrays the idea that the entire state of Mississippi is involved in farming and agricultural practices. The rows draw the eye from the Coast up to the Delta and Hill Country and can be viewed as going into infinity to symbolize the self-sufficiency of people. The tag line "Cultivating Mississippi" used in one of the logos is a reflection of not only cultivating the soil but telling the story of the progression of Mississippi culture as well. The color palette is very organic and was taken from actual colors of artifacts on the Museum campus.

"The new branding strategy sets a new standard for our future. The logo system will move us forward as we incorporate them into our planning, reinterpreting, and redesign of exhibit spaces and event programming," said Lise Foy, Director of the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum.

The Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum, located at 1150 Lakeland Drive in Jackson, is open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. For more information about the Museum, call (601) 432-4500, visit www.msagmuseum.org, or visit the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum on Facebook. The Mississippi Agriculture Museum is a division of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce.

Plan Your Next Special Event at the AG Museum

Whether you are planning a large or small occasion, the Museum can accommodate your needs.

The Mississippi Agriculture & Forestry Museum offers a unique setting for weddings, receptions, and rehearsal dinners. All of the buildings combine a rustic style, built with weathered wood representing Mississippi's history and southern charm. The authentic 1897 Museum Church is perfect for a quaint and intimate wedding ceremony.

For receptions, parties, and meetings, the Museum can seat from 50 to 400 people banquet style in one of the 8 venues. The Museum can provide a setting to make your event an experience that will be full of amazing memories.

For more information regarding room size, pricing, and terms and conditions, please visit the rental page of the website or call 601-432-4500.

Sowing the Seeds of Victory

By Lise Foy, Director
MS Agriculture & Forestry Museum

I am a child of the 80's. I remember not having a remote control for the TV, renting a VCR, and turning the dial to move the antenna so we could tune in to PBS shows. We only had three or four channels to watch, depending on the weather. You did not move the antenna if it was too cold because it might be frozen, and it could burn up the motor and be stuck somewhere between channels. PBS was one of my favorite channels, maybe because it came in really clear without any 'snow' on the screen.

Shows like Austin City Limits, Hee Haw, and Doctor Who were seldom missed at our house. Since you could not DVR, you had to just suffer through episodes of Sewing with Nancy and McNeil Lehrer to get to the good ones, which to me were The Joy of Painting and The Victory Garden. Even as a little girl, I loved watching them talk about growing vegetables and seeing the interesting ways they showed how to build cold frames and raised beds to produce large amounts of produce in a small area.

For decades, the show has been providing expert information on gardening and farm-to-table cooking. Taking inspiration from this series and historical information about the original movement, the Ag Museum is building its own Victory Garden this spring.

Victory Gardens, also called war gardens or food gardens for defense, first came about during World War I. In March 1917, Charles Lathrop Pack organized the U.S. National War Garden Commission and launched the campaign in an effort to decrease pressure on the public food supply. These gardens were also considered a civil "morale booster" because gardeners could feel empowered by their contribution of labor and rewarded by the produce grown.

Pack's idea was to increase the food supply without using land already being cultivated and without using transportation facilities devoted to the war effort. The campaign promoted the cultivation of any and every square foot of available land, resulting in over five million gardens in the United States and food-stuff production exceeding $1.2 billion by the end of the war.

The Ag Museum Victory Garden will be located behind the McDavid Cabin which was originally located near the town of Ruth, Mississippi, in Lincoln County. According to our records about the cabin and the McDavid family, the cabin was constructed in the 1820's and occupied by the family until the 1940's. The cabin along with the farm land that it was sitting on was eventually sold to Mr. Clifton Clark who leased the cabin to sharecroppers for several years. The probability that the people living in this cabin had a vegetable garden of some sort is high. The addition of our Victory Garden to that exhibit fits with the historical era and interpretive setting.

The photo is the McDavid Cabin. Mr. T.G. (Tim) Byrne had moved the cabin to his backyard in northeast Jackson in 1980. When he and his wife built a new house, the cabin was relocated to the Ag Museum in 1994, donated in memory of his father Mr. Tommie C. Byrne, a man who had great pride in our state's history, particularly its agricultural history.

The Victory Garden project at the Ag Museum is supported by the Mississippi Sustainable Agriculture Network (MSAN).

"MSAN is proud to partner with the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum on its Victory Garden," stated Executive Director, Daniel Doyle. "At one time, all Mississippians knew where their food came from and how it was grown. Just one generation ago, nearly half of the vegetable produce consumed in the country came from home and community gardens. Mississippi has a rich, but complex, history of agricultural land use and implementing regenerative practices that focus on natural solutions can ensure the fertility we've benefited from will be around for many generations to come."

During World War II, the Victory Garden movement was emphasized even more to curb food shortages.

Eleanor Roosevelt even planted a Victory Garden on the White House grounds. The idea was to use any and every space available including backyards, apartment rooftops, vacant lots, and public parks to grow food.

Interest in the Victory Garden concept has grown in recent years. It may not be called the same thing, but there is a definite renewal of the establishment of gardens in public space, and edible landscapes being incorporated into our own yards. In March 2009, First Lady Michelle Obama, planted an 1,100-square-foot "Kitchen Garden" on the White House lawn, the first since Eleanor Roosevelt's Victory Garden.

With Good Friday upon us, we know it is about time to plant the garden because tradition says that is when we do it, right? I had a text book that said you wait until the leaves on the oak trees are the size of squirrel's foot. My Daddy says we wait for the pecan trees. I have also been told the right date has to do with the cycle of the moon. Well, maybe it has more to do with the temperature of the soil and hours of sunlight in a day? Nonetheless, our Victory Garden will debut this spring, and we invite you to view our experiment at your leisure!

The Ag Museum is located at 1150 Lakeland Drive in Jackson and is open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. In addition to our gallery and exhibit spaces, the Ag Museum also has room for your event, whether it's a meeting, a wedding, or other special event. Call (601) 432-4500 for information.

Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Advertising rules and guidelines have been established for the Mississippi Market Bulletin in order to comply with regulations enforced by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and to maintain the objectives of the publication. The staff of the Mississippi Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any advertisement.

The Mississippi Market Bulletin assumes no responsibility for any notice appearing in the Bulletin nor for any transaction resulting from published notices. Advertisers are cautioned that it is against the law to misrepresent any product offered for sale in public notices or advertisements carried in any publication that is delivered by the United States Postal Service.

- In order to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin you must be a subscriber. To place an ad, you must include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.
- There is a 30-word limit for classified advertisements, this includes: price (on the item you are selling), your city, county and telephone number or name and complete address must be included in the ad if you do not list a telephone number. Ads cannot be held over from one issue to another. You must submit them for each issue.
- Out-of-state residents are not eligible to advertise with the following exceptions: Out-of-state ads are allowed in the "Wanting To Buy" category. Out-of-state ads are allowed for individuals owning farm property within the state that is being offered for sale (consisting of 10 acres or more).

Advertising Deadline Dates

MAY 1 ISSUE.....DEADLINE MON., APR. 14, 2014 • 12:00 NOON

MAY 15 ISSUE.....DEADLINE MON., APR. 28, 2014 • 12:00 NOON

You must submit your ad for each issue. We do not hold ads over for multiple insertion.

Advertisement Submission Form

In order to advertise you must be a subscriber.

All classified ads must be 30 words or less.

We cannot run items for sale without a price.

See the Advertising Guidelines to the left for complete rules.
