LAST CHANCE FOR METRO JACKSON RESIDENTS TO BUY FRESH VEGETABLES AT FARMERS MARKET

If you've been thinking about getting over to the Farmers Central Market in Jackson to purchase some fresh vegetables, the time is now! According to Billy Carter, Director of the Farmers Central market, vendors have a good supply of the usual favorites right now, but that will change over the next few days. "We've got a good supply of tomatoes, peas, beans, squash and cucumbers right now," he says. "And, of course, we've got pumpkins for Halloween. But, we expect the supply to dwindle over the next week to ten days, and there isn't another growing season," Carter says.

The Farmers Central Market is located at 352 East Woodrow Wilson Boulevard (corner of West St. & Woodrow Wilson). The market is open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 12 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.
