OCTOBER 16, 2006

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Jackson, Miss. - Country comes to town every day but Sunday at “your” Mississippi Farmers Market, just off High Street in downtown Jackson.

Come have fun this Saturday at the “Big Fall” Event on October 21st beginning with the Nellie Neal “live” radio show. Nellie will be broadcasting from the Farmers’ Market from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.

Entries into our statewide “Scarecrow” Contest created by Mississippi high school students will be on display and winners will be named during the day. You can visit the Mississippi Old Garden Rose Society’s “Antique Rose Sale” and take home some real prizes!

Mountains of fresh Pumpkins, and Vardaman Sweet Potatoes will be on colorful display. Sweet Potato Sweets from Vardaman will be selling their award-winning pies and other treats and Fresh Boiled Peanuts too!

Bring the family and come on down – to the “Big Fall” Event October 21st at the Mississippi Farmers Market when a big “taste” of Mississippi County comes to town. For more information call 601-354-6575.
