Champion Livestock Projects Teach About Animals, People

By Linda Breazeale
MSU Ag Communications

Exhibitors in the annual Dixie National Sale of Junior Champions learn important lessons about livestock through their projects, but one family discovered just as much about people.

Tyler Owen, 13, and Jacob Owen, 10, of Jones County qualified to participate in the sale with their reserve champion light heavyweight goat, Splits. Their journey to this coveted sale of market animals began when each was about 5 years old and their parents, Jennifer and Matt Owen of Moselle, encouraged them to show livestock.

"They can learn more responsibility and dedication raising and showing livestock than they can in any other sport," Jennifer Owen said before the sale on Thursday. "It takes a lot of effort to get up at 5:30 in the morning to care for animals."

While the boys were learning those important life lessons, their family faced a great tragedy. Matt Owen died from an aneurism in November 2013. He was 36.

"Our 'show family' has made the difference in how we have managed emotionally and in other ways. The boys have made lifelong friends," Jennifer Owen said.

Ronnie Herrington, a Jones County resident and a member of the Sale of Junior Champions Promotion Committee, has known the Owen family all their lives. When the boys' goat entered the sale arena, Herrington was determined to win the bid.

"The community has really rallied around this family. Everyone knows and loves them," he said. "Showing livestock keeps them busy and moving forward. It's an understatement that Matt would be proud of all of them."

For Tyler, winning is not everything, but success is fun and exciting.

"All the time and effort to teach the goats how to walk and brace for the judge were worth it," he said. "It was really exciting to make it into the sale."

Younger brother Jacob said

win or lose, he is determined to have fun.

"I like raising and showing pigs better than goats. They are not as easy to feed, but pigs stay where they belong. They just eat, sleep and walk," he said.

Soon, their little sister, Anna Claire, 7, will follow in their footsteps.

The Owens and other qualifying exhibitors sold their market animals in the 46th annual Sale of Junior Champions on February 12 in Jackson. Generous buyers pay significantly more than market value for the animals as a tribute to the dedication and hard work on the part of the members of 4-H programs and the National FFA Organization.

Dean Jousan, Mississippi State University Extension Service 4-H livestock specialist, said the 2015 sale set a new record total of $382,595 for 43 animals. The previous record -- $369,125 -- was set last year with 44 animals.

"The success of this sale can be attributed to our promotional committee members who find new buyers to participate each year as well as to the buyers who return year after year because they recognize the value of these livestock projects, both to teach responsible work ethics and to promote agriculture," he said.

In addition to the sale of the champion steers, lambs, hogs and goats, $55,500 in scholarships were presented to 35 Mississippi youths. See sale overview on page 25 in this issue.

*****

Cheddar Cornmeal Biscuits with Chives

1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup cornmeal
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
1/2 cup shredded extra-sharp Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons cold butter, cut into 1/2 -inch cubes
3/4 cup reduced-fat sour cream
1/4 cup finely chopped fresh chives
1 tablespoon honey (optional)
3-5 tablespoons low-fat milk

Preheat oven to 400° F. Combine flour, cornmeal, baking powder, baking soda, salt and pepper in a food processor. Pulse a few times to mix. Add cheese and butter and pulse again until the mixture looks pebbly with small oat-sized lumps. Transfer the mixture to a large bowl. Add sour cream, chives and honey (if using) and stir with a rubber spatula until almost combined. Add 3 tablespoons milk, stirring, just until the dough holds together in a shaggy mass. Do not over mix. On a lightly floured surface, lightly pat the dough into a rectangle, about 9 by 5 inches and just over 1/2 inch thick. Using a large chef's knife, divide the dough evenly into 12 biscuits. Place on an ungreased baking sheet. Bake the biscuits until lightly browned on top, 14 to 16 minutes. Serve warm or at room temperature.

Lemon-Blueberry Corn Muffins

1/2 cup unbleached white flour
1/2 cup whole-wheat flour
1 cup yellow cornmeal (finely ground works best)
1/3 cup granulated sugar
1/3 cup sugar-substitute
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 lemon, zested, finely chopped (about 1 1/2 teaspoon)
1/4 cup canola oil
4 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup fat-free sour cream
3/4 cup fat-free half-and-half or low-fat milk
1 large egg
1/4 cup egg substitute
2 cups frozen or fresh berries

Preheat oven to 400° F. Line 15 muffin cups with paper or foil liners. Whisk together the flours, cornmeal, sugar, sugar-substitute, baking powder, salt and lemon zest in a large bowl. Add canola oil, fat-free half-and-half, sour cream, egg and egg substitute to a large mixing bowl and beat on medium until well blended. Gradually add flour mixture to the batter in the mixing bowl, while beating on low speed, until just combined. Gently stir in blueberries and spoon batter into prepared muffin cups using a 1/4 -cup measuring cup. Bake until a tester inserted in center of largest muffin comes out clean (about 18 minutes).

Salsa Cornbread

1 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup whole-wheat flour
1/2 cup cornmeal
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground black pepper, to taste
3 large eggs, lightly beaten
1/2 cup buttermilk, or equivalent buttermilk powder
1 tablespoon butter, melted
1 tablespoon honey
1/2 cup drained canned corn kernels
1 small onion, diced
1/2 cup chopped tomato
1 clove garlic, minced
1 jalapeno pepper, seeded and minced
1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 425° F. Place a 9-inch cast-iron skillet (or similar ovenproof skillet) in the oven to heat. Whisk all-purpose flour, whole wheat flour, cornmeal, baking powder, salt and pepper in a large mixing bowl. Whisk eggs, buttermilk, butter and honey in a medium bowl. Add the egg mixture to the dry ingredients; mix with a rubber spatula. Stir in corn, onion, tomato, garlic and jalapeno. Remove the skillet from the oven and coat it with cooking spray. Pour in the batter, spreading evenly. Sprinkle cheese over the top. Bake the cornbread until golden brown and a knife inserted into the center comes out clean, 20 to 25 minutes. Serve warm.

Banana Coconut-Macadamia Muffins

3/4 cup whole wheat flour
3/4 cup unbleached white flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 1/4 cups mashed ripe bananas, about 3 large
1/3 cup sugar substitute, or other sugar alternative for baking
1/3 cup packed dark brown sugar
3 tablespoons canola oil
1/2 cup low-fat milk or fat-free half-and-half, plus 1 tablespoon
1 large egg
1/2 cup coarsely chopped roasted or toasted macadamia nuts
1/2 cup flaked or shredded coconut

Preheat oven to 350° F. Line 12 muffin cups with paper or foil liners. Whisk whole-wheat and white flours, baking soda, salt and nutmeg together in a large mixing bowl; set aside. Add bananas, sugar substitute and brown sugar, canola oil, milk, and egg to another large mixing bowl and beat or stir until completely blended. Pour banana mixture into the dry ingredients in mixing bowl and stir until just combined. Fold in macadamia nuts and coconut. Fill each muffin cup using a 1/4 -cup measuring cup. # Bacon, Eggs, Coffee With Cream and Biscuit, Please

By Lise Foy, Director
MS Agriculture & Forestry Museum

During our 'At Home on the Farmstead' days, I had the opportunity to lead a few groups through the Main House at the Fortenberry-Parkman Farmstead. I focused my tour on thinking about making breakfast without electricity or running water.

My version of the tour goes something like this.

In 2015, we would have made a trip to the grocery, maybe several days ago, to purchase a package of bacon, a carton of eggs, some coffee grounds, a gallon of milk (2% and pasteurized or maybe some French vanilla Coffee Mate), and some frozen Sister Shubert biscuits. You program the coffee pot the night before so the coffee is ready when the alarm clock goes off. Pop the frozen biscuits in the oven that heats to the perfect temperature at the touch of a button, click on the gas burners on the stove top and fry your bacon and eggs that were conveniently in the refrigerator. Remove the hot biscuits and spread a pat of butter from the tub, also in the refrigerator. All in all, you got breakfast in about 15 minutes. Put the dishes in the dishwasher, and you are on with your day.

The Farmstead at the Ag Museum preserves a span of one hundred years, from 1860 to 1960. The house was added on to at least three times to include two bedrooms, a detached dining room and kitchen. So, let's say we are in about 1900 as we make this breakfast, because we want to make sure the kitchen is built so we can use that wood burning stove.

We (the farm wife) roll out of bed at about 4:00 a.m., get dressed, and head down to the kitchen to start the fire in the stove with the wood that was cut yesterday. While the stove gets hot, we head out to the smoke house to get some bacon (the hog was processed in the spring) and to the chicken coop to collect some eggs. Someone else in the family is milking the cows, and you know that has to be done again before we go to bed tonight.

Next, we boil the coffee on the stove from the beans we ground by hand. Then we pull out the dough bowl for the biscuits. We will need flour from the cupboard, milk, and some lard from the tin lard kettle we rendered when that hog was processed in the spring. Vegetable shortening was developed in the early 1900's, but we couldn't afford that last time we went into town to the general store. We roll those biscuits out and put them in the oven while we fry the bacon and then the eggs. We churned some butter yesterday, and there is enough for breakfast, but we need to do that again today after breakfast from the morning milk. After we eat, we need to draw some water from the well outside to wash the dishes. It must be about 5:30 by now.

As we move through the main house and the out buildings, which include a potato house, a smoke house, mule barns, chicken coop, and outhouse, it is interesting to watch people think through this way of life while contemplating the daily chores it required, just to have food to eat and kids reactions to the outhouse.

My personal thoughts are that the farm wife would do all of that before the sun came up and then dress the kids, clean the house, work the garden, make the lunch and the dinner with that same stove, split wood, and any other chores that had to be done so you had supplies the next day and the next month – all while wearing a dress!

The Ag Museum not only preserves our history, but tells the story of agricultural innovations through the years. While February focused on the life of the rural farmer, March will feature Forestry Days at the Museum with tours focused on the forestry industry and progress made over the years in harvesting, transporting, and processing timber. Call us for tour and demonstration times.

The Ag Museum is located at 1150 Lakeland Drive in Jackson and is open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. In addition to our gallery and exhibit spaces, the Ag Museum also has room for your event, whether it's a meeting, a wedding or other special event. Call (601) 432-4500 for information.

If you would like to make a donation, make checks payable to the Mississippi Agriculture Museum Foundation, 1150 Lakeland Drive, Jackson, MS 39216.

Rodeo Queens Make Donation to Ag Museum

The Miss Rodeo Mississippi Foundation donated horse tack, vaccine, and other equine supplies to the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum replacing those that were lost in the November 13 fire. The supplies were collected by contestants of the 2015 Miss Rodeo Mississippi Pageant. Joining Museum Director Lise Foy and museum staff were (sitting left to right): 2015 Miss Rodeo Alabama Chelsea Maness, 2015 Miss Rodeo Tennessee Morgan Blackhurst, 2015 Junior Miss Dixie National Gracie Newell, and 2015 Miss Dixie National Summer Weldon.

DIXIE NATIONAL

2015

Each year, for one week in early February, Mississippi 4-H and FFA members head to Jackson for the annual Dixie National Junior Round-Up Livestock Show. The animals they have raised compete for championships in their individual breed and market shows. The Dixie National is the showcase of Mississippi's livestock industry and the 4-H and FFA livestock programs. The champions and reserve champions of the Junior Steer Show, the Junior Market Lamb Show, the Junior Market Goat Show, and the Junior Market Swine Show, in addition to the Grand and Reserve Grand Champion Mississippi Bred Barrows, Market Steers, Market Lambs, and Market Goats are singled out for a special tribute in the Sale of Junior Champions. The exhibitors purchased many of these animals last spring and have worked long and hard to raise outstanding animals.

First, about 2,000 market animals are exhibited by Mississippi youths at one of five district livestock shows within the state. Blue ribbon-winning animals at the district show then qualify for the Dixie National Junior Round-Up, from which the champions are selected. The exhibitors are justly rewarded, as buyers pay top dollar for their animals at the Sale of Junior Champions. The Dixie National Sale of Junior Champions Promotion Committee would like to thank all the buyers, contending buyers and contributors for helping make the 2015 Sale of Junior Champions a success. Also, we extend our congratulations to the youths who exhibited those champion animals or received academic scholarships. There were a total of 35 scholarships awarded to Mississippi 4-H and FFA youth that totaled $55,500. The 2015 sale set a new record total of $382,595 for 43 animals. The previous record -- $369,125 was set last year with 44 animals.

Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Advertising rules and guidelines have been established for the Mississippi Market Bulletin in order to comply with regulations enforced by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and to maintain the objectives of the publication. The staff of the Mississippi Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any advertisement.

The Mississippi Market Bulletin assumes no responsibility for any notice appearing in the Bulletin nor for any transaction resulting from published notices. Advertisers are cautioned that it is against the law to misrepresent any product offered for sale in public notices or advertisements carried in any publication that is delivered by the United States Postal Service.

- In order to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin you must be a subscriber. To place an ad, you must include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.
- There is a 30-word limit for classified advertisements, this includes: price (on the item you are selling), your city, county and telephone number or name and complete address must be included in the ad if you do not list a telephone number. Ads cannot be held over from one issue to another. You must submit them for each issue.
- Out-of-state residents are not eligible to advertise with the following exceptions: Out-of-state ads are allowed in the "Wanting To Buy" category. Out-of-state ads are allowed for individuals owning farm property within the state that is being offered for sale (consisting of 10 acres or more).

By Chaille Clements
Communications and
Marketing Specialist - MDAC

As a special kick-off to the 2015 Dixie National Livestock and Rodeo Show, Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Cindy Hyde-Smith visited patients at Blair E. Batson Children's Hospital in Jackson. Commissioner Hyde-Smith was joined by Lecile Harris, the world-famous rodeo clown, the Express

Clydesdales, 2014 Miss Mississippi High School Rodeo Queen Bergen Pitfield, 2015 Junior Miss Dixie National Gracie Newell, and 2015 Miss Dixie National Summer Weldon as they brought a part of Dixie National to the children at the hospital. Each child received a cowboy hat and a commemorative Dixie National Livestock Show and Rodeo 50th Anniversary bandana. The patients also had the opportunity to interact with and get autographs from Lecile the clown and Rodeo Queens in addition to meeting the 2,000 pound Clydesdale horses.

"Blair E. Batson is a truly remarkable facility, and the young, brave patients there have been through so much. We were thrilled to have the opportunity of bringing the celebrities and part of the excitement of the Dixie National Rodeo to those who were not physically able to make it to one of the shows," said Commissioner Hyde-Smith.

Express Clydesdales Return for the 2015 Dixie National Parade

The Express Clydesdales from Yukon, Oklahoma, returned for the 2015 Dixie National Parade in Jackson. These beautiful horses travel across North America as ambassadors for Express Ranch and help raise millions of dollars for Children's Miracle Network Hospitals and other charities. On the road, the Express Clydesdales perform at various shows and events, pulling a magnificent stage coach specifically designed for Express. Of a rare black and white color, each Express Clydesdale stands more than eight feet high and weighs over 2,000 pounds. They consume about 12 pounds of feed, 12-15 pounds of hay, and 30 gallons of water in a day with occasional treats of apples and carrots. Commissioner Cindy Hyde-Smith was the grand marshal for the parade and had the opportunity to ride with the world-famous Express Clydesdales during the parade.
