Use Mums to Give Instant Fall Colors

By Gary R. Bachman
MSU Horticulturist
Coastal Research & Extension Center

One of the benefits of being a gardener is that most of the time, I'm paying attention to what's going on in the landscape and beyond. I've found that Mother Nature gives us clues, especially around the seasonal transitions.

There are subtle clues that summer is ending and fall is beginning. Red maples start to show tinges of reds and oranges. Each tree is different, but there is one red maple in my neighborhood that always starts to change before any others.

Another change in the landscape color palette is the arrival of mums in the nurseries and garden centers.

Some home gardeners may resist purchasing this month, as many summer annuals that were looking rough after a long, hot summer may be catching a second wind with the cooling weather. And, while I'm all for planting fall-color annuals early, they may not be quite ready yet. So consider fall mums as a bridge crop. Their colorful potential will put on an easy and reliable display for our current in-between period.

Incorporating fall garden mums into the landscape is easy. There are enough warm colors available to fit into almost any home color scheme. The plants seem to have literally hundreds of flowers, so the impact is immediate.

Now is the time to start planning how and where to effectively use these plants around your home and landscape. You have a couple of options. Choosing fall mums in full flower gives an instant impact for any autumn event. While beautiful, in my opinion, a mum in full bloom is like a shooting star -- bright and glorious, but only for the briefest time.

For a longer, more prolonged landscape show, select plants that still have tight buds and are just starting to show color. This choice increases the period of showy display as the buds begin to open in the garden.

My favorite way to use fall garden mums is to display them in containers on the front porch or back patio.

When combined with a decorative ceramic container, their visual impact can be dramatic. There is no need to transplant; just slip the mum, container and all, into the larger pot. If you are worried about the weight of some ceramic pots, there are fabulous foam and plastic pots that really look like their heavier cousins.

A word of caution is needed: Always keep the containers consistently moist. If the containers dry out, the flower show quickly fades away.

Fall mums are treated as seasonal annuals to be removed when the flowers have faded and replaced with the next season's flowers. But have you considered transplanting them into your garden when their flowers fade? Most of our fall mums have been bred for their colors and may not be cold hardy, even in coastal Mississippi.

Several years ago, I transplanted a range of gorgeous colors into my garden and only a purple variety overwintered successfully. But I think transplanting them into the garden is worthwhile, since you were going to compost the plants anyway.

Try planting them in a raised bed for the better soil drainage in the winter months. After the first freeze, cut the stems back and mulch with a layer of pine straw. Next spring, pull the pine straw away and see what emerges from a long winter's rest.

From Our Kitchen To Yours

Delicious Fall Recipes

*****

Harvest Salad

- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 bunch spinach, rinsed & torn into bite-size pieces
- 1/2 cup dried cranberries
- 1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese
- 2 tomatoes, chopped
- 1 avocado, peeled, pitted & diced
- 1/2 red onion, thinly sliced
- 2 tablespoons red raspberry jam (with seeds)
- 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
- 1/3 cup walnut oil*
- Freshly ground black pepper to taste
- Salt to taste

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. Arrange walnuts in a single layer on a baking sheet. Toast in oven for 5 minutes, or until nuts begin to brown. In a large bowl, toss together the spinach, walnuts, cranberries, blue cheese, tomatoes, avocado, and red onion. In a small bowl, whisk together jam, vinegar, walnut oil, pepper, and salt. Pour over the salad just before serving, and toss to coat. *If you can't find walnut oil, olive oil may be substituted.

Roasted Cauliflower Soup

- 2 heads cauliflower, broken into florets
- Olive oil cooking spray
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 4 cloves garlic, chopped
- 6 cups water
- Salt & ground black pepper to taste

Place the cauliflower florets into a large bowl of lightly salted water; allow to stand for 20 minutes. Drain well, and arrange on a sheet of heavy aluminum foil on a baking sheet. Spray the olive oil cooking spray evenly on the cauliflower. Preheat the oven's broiler and set the oven rack about 6 inches from the heat source. Broil the cauliflower until browned, 20 to 30 minutes. Meanwhile, heat olive oil in a large soup pot, and cook the onion until translucent, about 5 minutes; stir in the garlic and roasted cauliflower. Pour in the water, season with salt and black pepper, and simmer until all the vegetables are tender, about 30 minutes. Blend the soup in the pot with an immersion hand blender until creamy and smooth.

Sarah's Applesauce

- 4 apples, peeled, cored & chopped
- 3/4 cup water
- 1/4 cup white sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon

In a saucepan, combine apples, water, sugar, and cinnamon. Cover, and cook over medium heat for 15 to 20 minutes, or until apples are soft. Allow to cool, then mash with fork or potato masher.

Apple Butter Pork Loin

- 2 (2 pound) boneless pork loin roasts
- Seasoning salt to taste
- 2 cups apple juice
- 1/2 cup apple butter
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Season the pork loins with seasoning salt, and place them in a 9x13-inch baking dish or small roasting pan. Pour apple juice over the pork, and cover the dish with a lid or aluminum foil. Bake for 1 hour in the preheated oven. While the pork is roasting, mix together the apple butter, brown sugar, water, cinnamon, and cloves. Remove pork roasts from the oven, and spread with apple butter mixture. Cover, and return to the oven for 2 hours, or until fork-tender.

Crustless Cranberry Pie

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 cup white sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups cranberries
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/2 cup butter, melted
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon almond extract

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Grease one 9-inch pie pan. Combine the flour, sugar, and salt. Stir in the cranberries and the walnuts, and toss to coat. Stir in the butter, beaten eggs, and almond extract. If you are using frozen cranberries, the mixture will be very thick. Spread the batter into the prepared pan. Bake for 40 minutes, or until a wooden pick inserted near the center comes out clean. Serve warm with whipped cream or ice cream.

DOGS

Only HERDING & HUNTING dog breeds will be published. All dogs must be purebred. Mix breed dogs will not be allowed to advertise. Each subscriber is allowed to advertise only two dog breeds. We cannot accept ads from any individual who is engaged in any type of puppy mill operation or acts as a dealer, broker, buncher, or agent in the business of buying and selling dogs and/or bred solely for profit rather than protection of breed integrity (as defined by the United States Department of Agriculture).

We do not list ads for any type of dogs at stud service. Only in-state residents are allowed to advertise within this category.

The Herding & Hunting dog breeds list utilized by the Mississippi Market Bulletin is endorsed by the Mississippi State Veterinarian and the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce.

It is the sole discretion of the Mississippi Market Bulletin to accept or reject any dog ad for submission.

This timber report contains aggregated individual timber sale stumpage data. Many variables, such as raw material demand, mill inventories, buyer competition, quality, topography and weather, play key roles in determining local prices. Pine Sawtimber prices are based upon a 14-inch Diameter-at-Breast-Height (DBH) log size. Pine Chip N Saw prices are based upon a 10-inch DBH log size. The stumpage prices shown here are reprinted with permission from the Timber Owner Market Guide; a bi-monthly publication of Forest2Market (www.forest2market.com).

Lamar County 4-H Horse Club

By Sarah Crowsey
4-H Member & Jr. Reporter

The Lamar County 4-H Horse Club, The Turners-N-Burners (T-n-B), is a local group of members and volunteers who share their love of horses with their friends, their family and their community. As a 4-H member, each person pledges the following, "I pledge my Head to clearer thinking, my Heart to greater loyalty, my Hands to larger service, and my Health to better living for my Club, my community, my country, and my world."

In the 2014-2015 season, the Horse Club members walked out their pledge by participating in several community service projects including the Sweet-Hearts Rodeo, the T-n-B Show Series, a Thanksgiving Food Drive and Community Christmas Caroling.

The Sweet-Hearts Rodeo is an annual event hosted by the 4-H members and volunteers and is free of charge for children and adults in the community with physical and mental challenges. Activities include a petting zoo, face painting, horseshoe toss, bronc barrel riding, roping, arena race and other horse related events. Over eighty special guests enjoyed a day of horses, horses and more horses at last year's 2015 Sweet-Heart's Rodeo. This year's Sweet-Heart's Rodeo promises to be even more exciting and is scheduled for March 19, 2016.

The T-n-B Show Series is another opportunity for Club members to share their love of horses with their community. There are six shows in the series and 4-H Club members not only ride in the shows, but also volunteer their time and often their very own horses to visitors at each show. Events at each show include Lil'

Britches events, speed events and livestock events. Participants win end of year awards based on their attendance and participation. Seventy-four awards were presented in the 2014-2015 show season. Awards included saddles, event buckles, Lil' Britches buckles and participation awards. The 2015-2016 Show Series has had two shows this year with over one hundred in attendance at each show. Future show dates are October 17 (a PINK-OUT show for breast cancer awareness), November 21, December 5 and April 2. Lil' Britches events start at 10 a.m. with livestock and speed events to follow. There is a full concession stand and everyone is invited to come join in for a day filled with clean family fun.

The 4-H Horse Club begins its new year in the fall, which means fall elections of Senior and Junior officers. This year, these newly elected officers along with adult mentors have implemented some exciting new "Monday-night-at-the-Arena" events that will highlight our Club's dedication to "making the best better" in 2015-2016.

On the Monday nights before each of the Saturday show series, members, visitors and volunteers will participate in "Ropes N Goats." There will be club mentors teaching goat tying to those who have never tied a goat before or for those who have tied and want to improve their skills. We will have both live goats and "goat dummies" for practice. Calves and mentors will also be available for those who need practice in breakaway roping. (The club says thank you to Mike Keith for so generously supplying the calves and sheep for our practice nights and for the shows.)

On Monday, October 12, from

2-6 p.m. T-n-B will host a Roping Clinic with brothers Mr. Ford and Mr. Ford with the "Ropes N Goats" practice to follow. Cost is $20 with all proceeds to go to the 4-H Horse Club. Monday, September 21, at 6 p.m. will be our Tack-Up-Safety Clinic hosted by our senior officers, Hannah and Maloree. The clinic will be followed by Poles and Stakes tips and practice. Monday, September 28, at 6 p.m. will be our Nutritional Needs for Your Horse and Weight Measurements Demonstration with Barrel tips and practice to follow. These are just a sampling of our upcoming "Monday-night-at-the-Arena" events starting at 6 p.m.

The 4-H Horse Club also participates in other "fun" shows throughout the year. One of these is the Feed Show benefitting the Baxterville Athletics Association on October 3 beginning at 10 a.m. with Lil' Britches, speed events, and "fun horse games." This year, the 4-H Horse Club will host two of its very own "Play-Days." These will be fundraisers run by the club members and volunteers. There will be "fun" events and speed events for all ages and ALL proceeds raised will go towards 4-H District competition (June 9-11) and 4-H State competition (June 22-25) fees. These play-days will be held on February 6 and May 7 beginning at 10 a.m.

We invite all riders and non-riders to come check us out and learn how you can be involved with one of the best 4-H Horse Clubs in Mississippi. For more information, please contact: Lisa Cox, the Show Series Co-Chair at 601-441-8993 or one of our 4-H leaders, Carl Hutson at 601-447-4158 or Ray Lee at 601-543-4756.

Participants win end of year awards based on their attendance and participation. Seventy-four awards were presented in the 2014-2015 show season. Awards included saddles, event buckles, Lil' Britches buckles and participation awards.

Out of the Frying Pan

By Lise Foy
Contributing Writer

When you think of a cast iron skillet, you probably think of fried chicken or cornbread. And, there is a strong possibility that your grandmother had one designated for each use. One lived on the stove and the other in the oven. They never got 'put up' so to speak.

A cast iron skillet is much more versatile than chicken and cornbread. They are great for braising meat, baking cakes and many things in between. I remember my grandmother making peanut brittle that she called 'candy,' in her skillet. It would pop and sizzle, and then she poured it out on an enamel table to cool and cut. It was an amazing process!

A cast iron skillet is a staple piece of equipment for us when we camp because it can be used over an open flame or a hot rock, depending on the level of heat needed.

Cast iron cookware was especially popular among homemakers and housekeepers during the first half of the 20th century. Companies that produced cast iron cookware included Griswold and Wagner Ware, both of which went out of business in the 1950's. Pots and pans from this era continue to see daily use among many households and are highly sought after by antique collectors and dealers. Today, the Lodge Manufacturing company is currently the only major manufacturer of cast iron cookware in the United States.

Our grandmothers knew how to season these skillets and how to clean them to maintain the no-stick seasoned surface. After thousands of years, the onset of Teflon-coated aluminum cookware in the 1960's may have caused our modern kitchens to lose the skill of cast iron care. Please note the use of the word 'may' here, because I know many of you still use your cornbread skillet that lives in the oven on a daily basis, as my parents do. After all, there are some things an aluminum pan just cannot do.

For those of us who use these skillets regularly, or maybe inherited one and do not know how to use it or season it, here is some very useful information from Lodge Manufacturing:

Maintaining the seasoning should keep your cast iron in good condition, but at some point you may need to repeat the seasoning process. If food sticks to the surface, or you notice a dull, gray color, or rust, repeat the seasoning process.

1. Wash the cookware with hot, soapy water and a stiff brush. (It is okay to use soap this time because you are preparing to re-season the cookware).

2. Rinse and dry completely.

3. Apply a very thin, even coating of MELTED solid vegetable shortening (or cooking oil of your choice) to the cookware (inside and out).

4. Place aluminum foil on the bottom rack of the oven to catch any dripping, and set temperature to 350-400 degrees F.

5. Place cookware upside down on the top rack of the oven.

6. Bake the cookware for at least one hour. After the hour, turn the oven off and let the cookware cool in the oven.

7. Repeat the process as needed to achieve the classic black patina.

8. Store the cookware uncovered, in a dry place when cooled.

On November 21, the Ag Museum will present an educational demonstration on historic and modern methods of care of cast iron pieces. There are many antique cast iron cookware pieces on display at the Museum in Small Town, Mississippi, the Fortenberry-Parkman Farmstead and inside the Heritage Center Gallery. Call for details about the demonstration and don't forget to mark your calendars for Harvest Festival, when Small Town, Mississippi, comes to life November 11-14, 2015.

Here is a great fall recipe from Southern Living using a cast iron skillet.

Upside-Down Caramelized Apple Cake
1/2 cup chopped pecans
2 large Granny Smith apples, peeled and cut into 1/2-inch-thick slices
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons vanilla extract, divided
3/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon, divided
1/2 cup butter, softened and divided
2 teaspoons brandy
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
3/4 cup granulated sugar, divided
2 large eggs, separated
3/4 cup milk
1/2 cup sour cream
2 cups all-purpose baking mix (like Bisquick)
1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Preheat oven to 350°. Bake pecans in a single layer in a shallow pan 8 to 10 minutes or until toasted and fragrant, stirring after 5 minutes. Increase oven temperature to 375°. Toss apple slices with lemon juice, 1 tsp. vanilla extract, and 1/2 tsp. cinnamon. Melt 1/4 cup butter in a 10-inch cast-iron skillet over low heat. Remove from heat; stir in brandy. Sprinkle with brown sugar. Sprinkle pecans over brown sugar mixture. Arrange apples in 2 concentric circles over pecans. Beat 1/2 cup granulated sugar and remaining 1/4 cup butter at medium speed with an electric mixer until blended. Add egg yolks, 1 at a time, beating just until blended after each addition. Add milk, sour cream, and remaining 1 tsp. vanilla, beating just until blended. Whisk together baking mix, nutmeg, and remaining 1/4 tsp. cinnamon in a medium bowl. Add nutmeg mixture to butter mixture, beating just until blended. Beat egg whites in a large bowl at high speed until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup granulated sugar until stiff peaks form. Fold into batter. Spread batter over apples in skillet. Bake at 375° for 50 to 54 minutes or until a wooden pick inserted halfway into center of cake comes out clean. Cool in skillet on a wire rack 10 minutes. Carefully run a knife around edge of cake to loosen. Invert cake onto a serving plate, replacing any topping that sticks to skillet on cake.

The November 2014 fire has not stopped the Museum's effort to teach the next generation about the importance of agriculture and the innovations our ancestors developed to feed, clothe, and house themselves. Rebuilding efforts are underway, as well as continuing efforts toward the master plan renovations which began in 2013. If you would like to make a donation to the 'Raising the Barn' campaign, make checks payable to the Mississippi Agriculture Museum Foundation, 1150 Lakeland Drive, Jackson, MS 39216. Call us to learn about volunteer opportunities.

The Ag Museum is located at 1150 Lakeland Drive in Jackson and is open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. In addition to our gallery and exhibit spaces, the Ag Museum also has room for your event, whether it's a meeting, a wedding or other special event. ## Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Advertising rules and guidelines have been established for the Mississippi Market Bulletin in order to comply with regulations enforced by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and to maintain the objectives of the publication. The staff of the Mississippi Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any advertisement.

The Mississippi Market Bulletin assumes no responsibility for any notice appearing in the Bulletin nor for any transaction resulting from published notices. Advertisers are cautioned that it is against the law to misrepresent any product offered for sale in public notices or advertisements carried in any publication that is delivered by the United States Postal Service.

- In order to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin you must be a subscriber. To place an ad, you must include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.
- There is a 30-word limit for classified advertisements, this includes: price (on the item you are selling), your city, county and telephone number or name and complete address must be included in the ad if you do not list a telephone number. Ads cannot be held over from one issue to another. You must submit them for each issue.
- Out-of-state residents are not eligible to advertise with the following exceptions: Out-of-state ads are allowed in the "Wanting To Buy" category. Out-of-state ads are allowed for individuals owning farm property within the state that is being offered for sale (consisting of 10 acres or more).

Advertising Deadline Dates

Swine Industry Remains Steady Through Challenges

By Nathan Gregory
MSU Ag Communications

Brian Williams, an agricultural economist with the Mississippi State University Extension Service, said he expects these factors to keep the 2015 value of production about the same as 2014's value, if not slightly lower.

Swine producers will be closely monitoring the performance of corn and soybean -- two major feed sources in the swine industry -- as the year winds down, Williams said. Foreign markets will also affect the decisions of state producers.

"A lot of swine producers are watching China, which is a big player in the market. It seems quiet there right now, but there were some fears of economic collapse recently," Williams said. "If that were to happen, it could have an impact on our pork producers."

Beef prices also factor into pork demand. Williams said beef prices were at record highs last year, but they have come down considerably since then. Lower beef prices would hurt the pork industry.

At the end of 2014, Mississippi had 46,000 breeding sows and about 555,000 hogs being raised for slaughter. Sow numbers were about the same as the year before, but hog numbers had increased by 11 percent.

Porcine Epidemic Diarrhea Virus, or PEDv, occurred in portions of the country last year and created major problems for U.S. pork producers, but incidents have declined. Mississippi did not have a PEDv outbreak, but the virus raised awareness of the need for increased biosecurity measures to prevent the spread of disease in the future.

"Producers are paying more attention to biosecurity management during the shipment and transfer of pigs from one place to another," Extension swine specialist Mark Crenshaw said. "Industry leaders and researchers have started looking at other diseases that could have devastating effects on the industry and are developing a coordinated response to any foreign disease threat we might see here."

The lack of a local major pork market where producers can sell finished pigs has changed the Mississippi pork industry. Since Sara Lee Corp. closed its packing and processing plant in West Point eight years ago, the Mississippi industry has adjusted its production.

With limited pork markets nearby, many young pigs produced in Mississippi are transported to other states for finishing.

"Hauling finished pigs a long distance to a packing facility is not economically sustainable when you consider transportation costs, so it is more economical to ship them out of the state at a young age," Crenshaw said. "I don't know if we will ever bounce back from the loss of the plant at West Point unless we gain a nearby market for finished pigs. We're limited at either being small operations supplying local markets or large enough that we can ship loads of young pigs out of state where they can be finished near existing markets."

Interest in raising pigs on pastureland for personal consumption has been growing slowly in the state. Crenshaw credits this trend to consumer preference and a lack of available local market pigs throughout the state.

"When you look at the total number of pigs produced in the state, the percentage of pigs being raised by people doing so for their own consumption is small," he said, "but it is increasing because there is demand in niche and specialty markets. Some buyers have certain requirements related to specific genetics, housing and management system, or they may want antibiotic-free pigs."

Lower feed prices have made it possible for swine producers to more than break even, but that will change if cash hog prices continue to drop. Still, Crenshaw said, there is reason for cautious optimism for Mississippi producers.

"If you weren't affected by PEDv last year, you were making good money because the market was artificially high. The increase in pigs coming to market this year has driven prices back down, but when you look at the mentality of producers across the country, it's positive," he said. "In Mississippi, we haven't had the disease issues you see in more densely populated areas. When swine producers have healthy pigs, it's easier to be optimistic about the future."

Prevent Grain Theft from Your Farm

By Susan Head
Grants Management &
Marketing Specialist - MDAC

Commissioner Cindy Hyde-Smith and the Mississippi Agriculture & Livestock Theft Bureau would like to remind you to keep a watchful eye during this harvest season.

Before grain leaves your farm or operation, it is highly encouraged to have the grain weighed on-farm or at nearby scales. If there are no on-farm scales, follow the grain truck to a nearby scale and obtain a weigh ticket before it leaves your sight. There have been cases of grain drivers dumping and selling direct to other parties to obtain quick cash before arriving at the grain elevator. It is virtually impossible to know by looking if grain has been dumped without having two weigh tickets.

"It is important that farmers obtain a weigh ticket before grain leaves on its intended destination and compare that to the actual weigh ticket when the grain arrives at the elevator or buying point," says Commissioner Cindy Hyde-Smith, "If there is any discrepancy, please contact Ag Theft."

If you suspect any criminal activity on any ag-related issue, please contact the Mississippi Agriculture & Livestock Theft Bureau at 601-359-1121 or toll free at 1-800-678-2660.

Phillips Farms Elevator in Yazoo County helped retrieve grain that was dumped at an undisclosed location and returned the corn to the owner. Mississippi Agriculture & Livestock Theft Bureau was assisted in the recovery effort by Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks and Holmes County Sheriff's Office.

Remember to have grain weighed and obtain a weigh ticket before the truck departs for the grain elevator.
