Poinsettia Choices Are Ready for Christmas

By Dr. Gary R. Bachman
MSU Extension Service

The appearance of the poinsettia means we are in the full swing of the Christmas season. Traditionally, the red poinsettia is the first choice of many holiday gardeners.

The color possibilities of poinsettias are truly remarkable. Colors range from red to white and even maroon for Bulldog fans, making it hard to choose which ones to bring home. There are bicolored, speckled and marbled poinsettias, and if that's not enough, some greenhouses are even changing colors by painting them and adding sparkles.

When shopping for poinsettias, be aware of the wide variety that is available. Take your time to select the very best.

Now I need to point out that the colorful "flowers" that we love so much are not flowers at all. They are actually modified leaves, called bracts. Poinsettias naturally change color in the short days of winter in their native Mexico, but to get the poinsettias ready for garden centers, greenhouses trick the plants by using shade cloth to block light. As we get closer to Christmas, more color will be showing, finally becoming a sea of radiant hues.

While their leaves provide the real color, poinsettias do have true flowers: the yellow/green bead-like structures called cyathia. Your poinsettia will last longer if you select a plant with unopened or only partially open cyathia. You can carefully remove these structures for longer lasting color.

Do not overwater poinsettias, as these plants are sensitive to wet feet. Make sure the potting mix feels dry to the touch before watering. If you don't remove the decorative sleeve that covers the pot, be sure there are drainage holes.

Contrary to widely reported information, poinsettias are not poisonous to our pets. But as with all ornamentals and houseplants, they are not meant for our animals to eat. If you want to be on the safe side, keep poinsettias out of reach of your pets.

A more likely scenario is that poinsettias can cause a skin rash or contact dermatitis in people with sensitive skin. Contact dermatitis is caused by the plant's milky sap, which is actually closely related to latex. Always wash your hands after handling your poinsettia.

While we enjoy poinsettias during the holidays, many don't know some of the history of this beautiful plant. The Aztecs in Mexico and Central America cultivated this plant to produce dyes and a fever medication. In the 1820s, John Poinsett, the ambassador to Mexico and a hobby botanist, saw these native plants with their brilliant red "flowers" naturally blooming during the Christmas season.

In Mexico, poinsettias are known as Flores de la Noche Buena, or Flowers of the Holy Night, because of their bloom period. Poinsett sent some cuttings home, and these became the Christmas poinsettias we now enjoy. Poinsett died on December 12; this day is now celebrated as National Poinsettia Day in honor of his discovery and its importance to the Christmas holidays.

From Our Kitchen To Yours

Southern-Style Christmas Dinner

*****

Sweet-and-Spicy Cola Glazed Ham

16 ounces cola
1 cup dark brown sugar
1/2 cup Dijon mustard
1 tablespoon red pepper flakes
1 bone-in cooked ham
Butter

In a medium saucepan over medium-high heat, bring cola, brown sugar, mustard and red pepper flakes to a boil. Reduce heat to low, and simmer until glaze is reduced and slightly thickened, 20 to 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Meanwhile, using a sharp knife, score ham, making 1/2-inch deep marks in a grid pattern. Line a roasting pan with a piece of buttered aluminum foil. Transfer ham to pan, and using a pastry brush, cover with a third of the glaze. Bake ham for 1 1/2 hours, and brush with a third of the glaze. Bake for another hour, and brush with remaining glaze. Continue baking for up to 30 minutes more, until an instant-read thermometer reaches 145 degrees F when inserted into ham. Remove from oven and let rest for 20 minutes.

Cheddar Biscuits

4 cups all-purpose flour
8 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons freshly ground pepper
1 1/2 sticks unsalted butter
2 cups buttermilk
1 cup grated cheddar

Preheat oven to 450 degrees F. Meanwhile, in a large bowl, combine flour, baking powder, salt and pepper. Using a pastry cutter or your fingers, cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add buttermilk and cheddar, and stir until dough just comes together. Turn out dough onto a lightly floured surface; divide dough into halves and pat each into a rectangle. Set aside one rectangle and cover with a clean dish towel. Working with the other rectangle and using your hands, fold, flatten, and repeat until the dough has been folded over four times. Pat out until one inch thick. Cut out biscuits using a two inch round cutter. Repeat with reserved dough rectangle. Re-roll scrap dough and repeat until all dough is used. Transfer biscuits to two baking sheets and bake until golden on top, 14 to 18 minutes.

Sorghum-Glazed Sweet Potatoes

6 medium sweet potatoes
1 1/4 cup fresh apple cider
1/2 cup sorghum
3 tablespoons butter
2 teaspoons whole-grain Dijon mustard
2 teaspoons apple cider vinegar
1/2 teaspoon Kosher salt
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
3/4 cup candied or spiced pecans

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Peel potatoes, and cut into one-inch thick slices; arrange in a single layer in two lightly greased 13 x 9-inch baking dishes. Stir together cider, sorghum, butter, mustard, vinegar, salt and cinnamon; pour evenly over potatoes. Cover tightly with aluminum foil. Bake for 45 minutes or until fork-tender. Uncover and bake five more minutes or until glaze becomes syrupy. Arrange potatoes in a shallow serving dish. Sprinkle with pecans and drizzle with sorghum glaze.

Cranberry-Cherry Cobbler Pie

1/4 cup cornstarch
1 teaspoon finely grated lime zest
1 tablespoon lime juice
2/3 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar, divided, plus more for sprinkling
1 teaspoon kosher salt, divided
12 ounces cranberries
12 ounces frozen sweet cherries
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour, spooned and leveled
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup cold unsalted butter, cut up
3/4 cup buttermilk or whole milk

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Whisk together cornstarch, lime zest, lime juice, 2/3 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add cranberries and cherries; toss to combine. Transfer to a nine-inch pie plate. Whisk together flour, baking powder, two tablespoons sugar, and remaining salt. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add buttermilk and gently mix to form a wet, shaggy dough. Dollop mounds of dough on top of fruit; sprinkle with sugar. Bake, on baking sheet, until golden and bubbling, 50 to 55 minutes; cool slightly.

The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Equestrian Team at Mississippi College Wraps up Fall 2016 Season

By Andy Kanengiser
MC University News Coordinator

Mississippi College (MC) equestrian team riders finished the fall season in style with an impressive showing at a recent Georgia tournament.

Topping the highlight reel for the Blue & Gold was MC senior captain Maggie Waters. The Zanesville, Ohio, rider and her horse earned a first-place ribbon in the category of open over the fences.

Georgia College and University hosted the November 12 event in Buckhead. The Intercollegiate Horse Shows Association event attracted 16 teams. Overall, Mississippi College finished in 6th place.

"It was a great show to wrap up the fall season," said coach Mandi Powers.

It should energize the Lady Choc-taws as the riders kick off the spring season with a horse show at Auburn University January 28, Powers added.

Among second-place finishes at the horse competition in the Peach State: MC's Kaylyn Kimpel of Winter Gardens, Florida, in the walk/trot category and Bree Holmes of Albertville, Alabama, in the intermediate equitation on the flat.

Among third-place showings: Jessica Patch of Madison in novice over the fences, Meg Anderson of Memphis, Tennessee, in advanced walk/trot/canter and Kayla Kramer of Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey, in novice equitation on the flat. Bailey Welch of Madison got third place in intermediate equitation on the flat.

Starting its 10th season, Missis-

MC senior captain Maggie Waters from Zanesville, Ohio, and her horse earned a first-place ribbon in the category of open over the fences.

issippi College competes in a strong IHSA division with perennial champion Berry College of Georgia as well as leading schools like Alabama, Auburn, Georgia Tech and Georgia.

The 13-member MC Lady Choc-taws team consists of riders from Tennessee, Colorado, Mississippi, Michigan, Alabama, Florida, New Jersey and Texas. The Mississippians on the squad include Madison residents Darby Damon and Hope Henry.

Earlier this fall, MC's equestrian team earned second-place honors behind champion Berry College in a 16-team show in Georgia. Other schools competing October 15-16 included Mississippi State, the University of Alabama, Georgia Tech, the University of Mississippi, Emory, North Alabama and the University of Georgia.

"Everyone worked very hard and pushed through as a team," Powers said.

Horses with the Christian university's equestrian squad come with pretty interesting names – from MC Capiche to MC Quintessential, from Spoon River Lew to Isabella. The MC squad is headquartered at 2,000-acre Providence Hill Farm.

Drought Assistance Available For Mississippi Producers

By Kavanaugh Breazeale
USDA-NRCS

The United States Department of Agriculture/Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) will direct $500,000 in financial and technical assistance for fiscal year 2017 to assist Mississippi producers with possible adverse impacts of the recent drought conditions throughout the state. This funding will be available through the Environment Quality Incentives Program (EQIP). Producers, farmers and ranchers can apply for EQIP and obtain more information at their local NRCS office.

EQIP is a voluntary program designed to provide financial and technical assistance to agricultural producers with the planning and implementation of conservation practices that improve soil, water, plants, animals, air and related natural resources on private agricultural and forest land. These funds can be used to assist with water relocation methods to provide emergency rehabilitation and drought resistant options for grazing and cropping operations. Some of the conservation practices eligible are residue management, mulching, pumping plants, irrigation systems, micro-irrigation, irrigation pipelines, water well and watering facilities.

NRCS accepts applications for EQIP on a continuous basis, however there are certain dates assigned to rank applications. The deadline for consideration in the first ranking period for the drought initiative is December 23, 2016.

"The Environmental Quality Incentives Program offers producers a variety of options to conserve natural resources on their properties", stated Kurt Readus, NRCS State Conservationist for Mississippi. "This conservation investment helps improve inadequate water supply and poor plant health in Mississippi."

To qualify for EQIP, an applicant must be an individual, entity or joint operation that meets EQIP eligibility criteria. NRCS financial-assistance programs offer a continuous sign-up; however, applications received by December 23, 2016, will be considered for funding in this ranking period. For more information about EQIP, visit the NRCS website: http://www.nrcs.usda.gov/wps/portal/nrcs/detail/ms/programs/financial/eqip/?cid=nrcs142p2\_017159
