Four Foods for Good Fortune in 2019

By Elyse Vincenty
Deep South Magazine

*Celebrate New Year's Day
with traditional Southern dishes
that promise to bring luck,
wealth and good health.*

Many people have their traditions to help them ring in the New Year, but leave it to the South to contribute a delicious meal rich in history and superstition, as well as taste. The traditional New Year's meal in the South must consist of four things— black-eyed peas, pork, greens and cornbread. It seems like a modest meal, but this custom predates the invention of modern refrigeration. All of these items were inexpensive and easily accessible in the South during the winter.

In the New Year's dish, black-eyed peas represent coins to bring wealth and health. Some people even include exactly 365 peas, one for each day of the upcoming year. It used to be that a dime or a shiny penny would be hidden in the pot, and whoever had that coin in their bowl would receive the most luck (unless, of course, the coin is accidentally swallowed!).

Pork, another important component, has a special place in the South. Pigs are considered symbolic of health and wealth because a pig can feed a family for the entire winter due to its meaty and fatty content. Southerners also use pretty much the entire pig — whether it's a whole pork roast, hog jowls, fatback, ham hocks, bacon or ribs. Traditionally, cured pork or hog jowl is included because it can be stored for long periods and would be the most accessible during the winter.

Pork also represents progress because pigs push forward, rooting themselves in the ground before moving, and pigs can't look backward without completely turning around. Therefore, eating pork will encourage you to look to the future and ensure that you will move forward in the New Year.

Greens are supposed to symbolize money, since they are flat and green like dollar bills. While the type of greens can vary by region or taste preference — collard, turnip, mustard, chard, kale or even cabbage. Collard greens are usually the vegetable of choice for this traditional meal in the South because that's what we grow here in the late fall. It is widely believed that the more greens eaten, the larger your fortune will be that year.

And finally, it isn't a complete Southern New Year's meal without cornbread on the side.

Native Americans first introduced the cornmeal mixture, and when wheat was not widely available, Southerners made cornbread instead. The color of cornbread represents gold for New Year's, bringing wealth and prosperity. For the most authentic and traditional Southern flavor, very little sugar and flour is used.

While there are many different variations of meals containing black-eyed peas, pork, greens and cornbread, Hoppin' John is considered one of the South's most traditional New Year's dishes. Originally a Carolina Lowcountry dish, Hoppin' John is a culmination of the main three ingredients slow cooked with rice. Eating leftover Hoppin' John the day after New Year's (a practice known as "Skippin' Jenny") shows one's frugality and will only increase your chances of prosperity in 2019.

Happy New Year!

From Our Kitchen To Yours

New Year's Day Menu Ideas

*****

Spicy Slow Cooker Black-Eyed Peas

1 pound dried black-eyed peas
1 meaty ham bone
1 cup onion (chopped)
2 to 3 cloves garlic (minced)
1 cup diced cooked ham (if desired)
3 ribs celery (diced)
1/2 red bell pepper (diced)
1 teaspoon salt (or to taste)
1/2 teaspoon seasoned pepper blend (or to taste)
Dash crushed red pepper or ground cayenne (to taste)

Pick through the peas and discard any damaged or malformed ones. Look for small stones too; rinse well. Following the package directions, soak the black-eyed peas overnight or follow the directions for a "quick soak." Drain the peas. Cover the drained peas with fresh water and place the pan over medium-high heat. Bring to a boil. Reduce the heat to low and simmer them for about one hour longer, or until just tender. Meanwhile, place the remaining ingredients in the slow cooker and begin cooking on the slow setting. When peas are just tender, add them to the slow cooker. Cover and cook on low for about four to six hours, or until peas and vegetables are tender. Remove the ham bone; dice the ham and return it to the pot. Taste the peas and adjust seasonings, adding more salt and pepper as needed.

Buttery Cornbread with Corn Kernels

1 1/2 cups cornmeal
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon sugar (optional)
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 scant teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup corn (canned or cooked, drained)
1 1/2 cups buttermilk (well shaken)
1 large egg
6 tablespoons butter (melted, divided)

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees F. Place a cast iron skillet in the oven to heat for 10 minutes. In a large bowl, combine the cornmeal, flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and soda. Whisk to blend ingredients thoroughly. Stir in the corn kernels. In a separate bowl, whisk the buttermilk and egg together until well blended. Whisk in four tablespoons of the melted butter. Carefully take the hot skillet out of the oven and set it on a rack. Add the remaining two tablespoons of butter to the skillet. Swirl the pan slightly to cover the bottom with the butter. Combine the dry ingredients with the buttermilk mixture and stir until well blended. Pour the batter into the pan and return the pan to the oven. Bake the cornbread for 23 to 26 minutes, or until it is golden brown and crusty along the sides.

Pulled Pork with Peppers

1 pork shoulder roast
1 to 2 tablespoons grill seasoning (steak, burger, or spicy chicken)
2 limes (juiced or 1/4 cup apple juice)
2 medium onions (sliced)
1 green bell pepper (seeded and coarsely chopped)
2 to 3 cups barbeque sauce (or to taste)

Put about half of the onions in the slow cooker. Place the pork roast on the onions and sprinkle generously with grill seasoning. Top with the remaining onions and peppers and drizzle with the lime juice. Cover and cook on high for six hours. Remove the roast and vegetables and shred the pork. Discard juices and return the shredded pork to the slow cooker. Add barbeque sauce, cover, and cook on low for about one hour. Serve on toasted buns with coleslaw and pickles.

Boiled Cabbage with Bacon

6 strips thick bacon (about 6 to 8 ounces)
1 large onion (coarsely chopped)
1 medium head of cabbage (about 2 pounds)
1/2 cup low sodium or unsalted chicken broth (or as needed)
Kosher salt (to taste)
Black pepper (to taste)

Dice the bacon strips into one-inch pieces. In a large Dutch oven or deep sauté pan, cook the diced bacon until it is fully cooked but not crisp. With a slotted spoon, remove the bacon pieces to paper towels to drain; set aside. Reserve about two tablespoons of the bacon drippings in the pot. Add the chopped onion to the bacon drippings and cook over medium heat until tender and lightly browned, stirring frequently. This step will take about four to five minutes. Coarsely chop the cabbage and add to the browned onions; stir in the chicken broth. Cover the pot tightly and reduce the heat to low; simmer for 15 minutes. Add more broth or water, as needed, and cook for about five to ten minutes longer, or until the cabbage is tender. Stir in the bacon pieces; heat through and serve.

Mustard Greens with Ham

1 tablespoon vegetable oil
2 to 3 ham shanks or a meaty bone or ham hocks
1 1/2 cups onion (chopped)
2 cloves garlic (minced)
2 pounds mustard greens (thoroughly washed, tough stems removed & coarsely chopped)
1 1/2 cups chicken broth
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Pepper vinegar sauce, to taste (optional)
Salt and pepper, to taste (optional)

In a large pot or Dutch oven, heat oil over medium heat. Add the onions, ham shanks or ham bone; cook, stirring, until onions are wilted. Add the garlic and cook for one minute longer. Stir in the chicken broth and bring to a boil. Mix in the mustard greens, a few handfuls at a time, adding more as the first batch wilts. Reduce the heat to medium-low; add Worcestershire sauce and a dash of hot pepper vinegar sauce. Cook, uncovered, for 20 minutes. Cover and simmer for about 30 to 40 minutes longer. Taste and add more pepper sauce, salt and pepper, as needed.

Smithsonian Traveling Exhibition Exploring Water's Environmental and Cultural Impact Coming to Jackson

By Emily Summerlin
Event and Marketing Specialist
Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum

From above, Earth appears as a water planet with more than 71 percent of its surface covered with this vital resource for life. Water impacts climate, agriculture, transportation, industry and more. It inspires art and music. The Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum, in cooperation with Mississippi Humanities Council, will examine water as an environmental necessity and an important cultural element as it hosts "Water/Ways," a traveling exhibition from the Smithsonian's Museum on Main Street (MoMS) program. "Water/Ways" will be on view Saturday, December 8, 2018 through January 19, 2019.

The Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum and the surrounding community has been expressly chosen by the Mississippi Humanities Council to host "Water/Ways" as part of the Museum on Main Street program—a national/state/local partnership to bring exhibitions and programs to rural cultural organizations. The exhibition will tour six communities throughout the state.

"Water/Ways" explores the endless motion of the water cycle, water's effect on landscape, settlement and migration, and its impact on culture and spirituality. It looks at how political and economic planning have long been affected by access to water and control of water resources. Human creativity and resourcefulness provide new ways of protecting water resources and renewing respect for the natural environment.

Designed for small-town museums, libraries and cultural organizations, "Water/Ways" will serve as a community meeting place to convene conversations about water's impact on American culture. With the support and guidance of state humanities councils, these towns will develop complementary exhibits, host public programs and facilitate educational initiatives to raise people's understanding about what water means culturally, socially and spiritually in their own community.

"Water is an important part of everyone's life and we are excited to explore what it means culturally, socially and spiritually in our own community," said Aaron Rodgers, Museum Director. "We want to convene conversations about water and have developed local exhibitions and public programs to compliment the Smithsonian exhibition." Such events include a special presentation by State Scholar, Dr. James C. Giesen, water based Story Time with Uncle Story, and the Augmented Reality Sandbox provided by the Friends of the MS River Basin Model. Additional programming information can be found at www.msagmuseum.org.

"Water/Ways" is part of the Smithsonian's Think Water Initiative to raise awareness of water as a critical resource for life through exhibitions, educational resources and public programs. The public can participate in the conversation on social media at #thinkWater.

"Water/Ways" was inspired by an exhibition organized by the American Museum of Natural History, New York (www.amnh.org), and the Science Museum of Minnesota, St. Paul (www.smm.org), in collaboration with Great Lakes Science Center, Cleveland; The Field Museum, Chicago; Instituto Sangari, Sao Paulo, Brazil; National Museum of Australia, Canberra; Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto, Canada; San Diego Natural History Museum; and Science Centre Singapore with PUB Singapore.

The exhibition is part of Museum on Main Street, a unique collaboration between the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES), state humanities councils across the nation, and local host institutions. To learn more about "Water/Ways" and other Museum on Main Street exhibitions, visit www.museumonmainstreet.org. Support for MoMS has been provided by the U.S. Congress.

SITES has been sharing the wealth of Smithsonian collections and research programs with millions of people outside Washington, D.C., for 65 years. SITES connects Americans to their shared cultural heritage through a wide range of exhibitions about art, science and history, which are shown wherever people live, work and play. For exhibition description and tour schedules, visit www.sites.si.edu.

Agriculture Commissioner Gipson Submits Comments on Regulation of Cell- Cultured Food Products

By Paige Manning
Director of Marketing and Public Relations - MDAC

Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson, on behalf of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, submitted public comments to the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) regarding the use of cellular agriculture to manufacture products derived from livestock and poultry stem cells.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and USDA have joint authority in overseeing the production of cell-cultured food products derived from livestock and poultry. The two federal agencies are actively refining the technical details of the regulatory framework. As a result, Commissioner Gipson submitted public comments to express concerns regarding food standards of identity and consumer safety that impact Mississippi's farmers, ranchers and consumers.

"As this new technology arises, I have asked the FDA and USDA to ensure consumer protection and to enforce truth-in-labeling laws and standards of identity for cell-cultured food products," said Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce Andy Gipson. "The state's meat industry is very important to our agriculture community. These comments do not represent an attempt to prevent new and emerging technologies from entering the marketplace. However, it is imperative that FDA and USDA consider potential hazards and food safety concerns before these products are available for retail consumption, and truth-in-labeling and standards of identity must be enforced so that consumers can make educated purchasing decisions."

The comments submitted by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce are available for viewing at <https://bit.ly/2RxSnQP>. A joint statement from the FDA and USDA regarding regulation of cell-cultured food products is available at <https://www.fda.gov/NewsEvents/Newsroom/PressAnnouncements/ucm626117.htm>.
